MOONEY BOMB PLOT CASE GOES TO JURY

Big Preparedness Day Parade Murder Trial Is Brought to a Conclusion by Assistant District Attorney Edward Cunha

JUDGE GRIFFIN READS FINAL INSTRUCTIONS

Another Record Breaking Audience in Attendance to Hear Final Arguments by Prosecution; Case Is Reviewed

THE JURY BUREAU 563 MARKET ST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The trial of Thomas J. Mooney, alleged preparedness day bomber, was brought to a climax today following the closing arguments by Assistant District Attorney Edward Cunha. Superior Judge Franklin Griffin delivered his instructions to the jury this afternoon. Thus the second murder trial growing out of the preparedness day parade outrage of July 22, when ten persons met death and two were injured, has been brought to a conclusion. Achieving unusual prominence by reason of the presence of Attorney Edward Cunha, distinguished political leader and orator of New York, the last day of the trial saw another record crowd in attendance and witnessed a plea for conviction and extreme punishment for the defendant.

Cockran leaves for New York tomorrow to fulfill important engagements and will depart whether or not the jury has returned its verdict. Judge Griffin began to instruct the jury at 2 o'clock this afternoon, following which the case was submitted to the jury.

CLOSING ARGUMENT. Assistant District Attorney Cunha occupied the entire morning session with his closing argument. He drew a sketch of the scene at Stewart and Market streets after the infernal machine had exploded, describing the maimed and hysterical women and children while the perpetrators scurried for safety from the police. He attempted to puncture the defense with shafts of criticism, declaring that the attorneys for Mooney had shifted so often their arguments that there was no chance to "get a good, square look at their defense."

Picturing the death of one of the victims, Cunha said: "They say we are not fair, then in this case. Were they fair? We are fair to the law. In this case—that great, big man, Lawlor? Lawlor had a right to live. He had a right to happiness in this world. He didn't even have a chance to make his defense. He was blown to death. Are you going to forget him?"

At the outset of his argument Cunha called the attention of the jurors to their duty. "You are not responsible, gentlemen, for the position in which you find yourselves at the present time. Yesterday Mr. Cockran argued that if you act on the evidence before you and so, you are personally responsible for what you do. I say to you that that is not the fact and not the law. A juror is supposed to act on what he hears in a court of law. It is his duty to do so. He is not to be a juror who comes into this court and perjure himself and the attendant goes to the gallows, and a proven so should go to the gallows. In order to acquit the defendant in this case, in order to go back of the testimony of Osmán in this case, I say acquit this defendant, but you must acquit Osmán guilty of murder."

RESUMANT SITUATION. "What was the situation in San Francisco on July 22? We were having a preparedness parade. The defense tells you the police were ragged in this case. I thank God the police were ragged. When a burglar or a robber is committed they know how to get at it because they have had experience; but when a crime like this comes, it is like the earthquake and fire—a new situation. They were not used to it. A crime such as this goes to the very vitals of the very makeup of our society. If we cannot come into court with witnesses like we have and convict these people, we might as well abandon this city to the 'blasters'."

"When you get witnesses like Osmán of Oregon and the Edeaus of Oakland, people who did not wish to come here and who shrank from testifying, you must be convinced."

"What you want to any gentleman, is, if there is anything wrong about

Two Men Killed by the Fire of Diver Without Warning

LONDON, Feb. 9, 2:20 p. m.—The Norwegian steamship Ida, of 1172 tons, has been sunk by a German submarine. Surviving members of the crew were landed today. The captain stated that the chief mate and the steward were killed while on deck by gunfire, the submarine firing continuously without warning until the vessel sank.

Lloyd's Shipping Agency this afternoon announced that the Norwegian steamship Hanskinck, formerly the American steamer Satilla, of 2667 tons gross, has been sunk.

The British steamship Hanna Larsen, 1310 tons gross, has been sunk by a submarine. Her captain and chief engineer were taken prisoner. The remainder of the crew was landed.

QUEENSTOWN (Via London), Feb. 9, 3:30 p. m.—The Norwegian ship Slosskog, of 2191 tons gross, was sunk yesterday by a German submarine. The crew was aboard the submarine when a steamer appeared and the undersea boat submerged. The chief officer and carpenter were the only ones able to return to the ship's bow and they were picked up by the steamer.

TONNAGE DESTROYED.—Lloyd's report, under date of today as forwarded by Consul-General Skinner of London to the State Department, showed destruction of 15,918 tons of shipping during the last twenty-four hours, against about 23,000 shown in yesterday's report.

The list showed one case—that of the British steamer Dauntless—sunk yesterday, in which seventeen persons are missing, two died after landing and four hospital cases.

SAILS UNARMED.—NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The first American ship to clear for the German "barred zone" since the German blockade was declared, left Erie Basin today and anchored off the Statue of Liberty until time to go out to sea.

The Holland-American line steamer Ryndam, returning here after starting for Rotterdam via Falmouth January 29, was reported early today 2190 miles east of Sandy Hook and due to dock here Wednesday.

The Ryndam, with passengers and cargo, turned back when within about fourteen hours of Falmouth.

TEN VESSELS SUNK.—Consul-General Skinner transmitted to the State Department the following Lloyd's report of vessels sunk:

"Russian steamer Bankputsk, 218 tons, sunk by submarine, crew landed. "Norwegian schooner Boyne Castle, 225 tons, crew landed.

"British steamer Dauntless, 1361 tons, seventeen missing, six landed, two died in hospital, four in hospitals. "British steamer Hollinside, captain landed, crew in boats.

"British steamer St. Ninian, 9133 tons, part of crew landed. "British steamer Saxonian, 2975 tons, crew landed. "Norwegian schooner Songelv, 1973 tons, crew landed. "Swedish steamer Varing, 1742 tons, crew landed. "British steamer Veda Moore, 1222 tons, crew landed. "French steamer Yvonne, 130 tons."

AMERICANS ON BOARD.—WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 9.—With a cargo of petroleum, the American tank steamer Gold Shell sailed today for Rouen, France, after delaying her departure several days. Eighteen of her crew of forty-five are American citizens. She is owned by the Gold Shell company of California and was chartered by a submarine on a recent trip to France.

"WE FACE WAR," SAYS WM. H. TAFT

Former President Declares Many Perils, Including Far East, Confront U. S.; Big Army and Navy Are Needed

Philippines, Japan and Mexico Dangers That May Loom; the Next Explosion to Be Worldwide; No Room for Neutrals

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—"We are facing war now! We are on the brink of this."

This solemn declaration was made here today by William H. Taft, former President of the United States, in a speech before the joint convention of the Pennsylvania and Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Associations at the Hotel Astor.

Taft spoke in favor of preparedness, saying that a great nation like the United States ought to be in a position to defend itself against aggression. He spoke ironically of the American people "sitting back in rocking chairs when the great European conflict came."

"Call it conscription if you want to, but we need it," he exclaimed the speaker, in reference to universal training.

Taft indicated that the American people have cause to fear a menace from the Far East. He said in part: "We own the Hawaiian Islands and the largest element of their population is 75,000 Japanese, who served in the Japanese army. We have a force of 5000 to 6000 men in the islands. We own the Philippines, that is, we have them. I would like to tell you what I think of the Philippines policy, but there are ladies present."

"In the Philippines we have 114,000 square miles of territory, 300 inhabited islands and 8,000,000 people who owe their allegiance to the United States and to whom we owe protection. They are under the eaves of Asia, and they therefore make us an Asiatic power."

SEEK TRADE, NOT PEOPLE.—Taft then went on to say that the Panama canal and our treaty with the Panama republic made us a South American power.

"Next come our relations with China and Japan. We yearn for Chinese and Japanese trade, but not Chinese and Japanese people. The Japanese do not like that."

Taft then went on to say that the Panama canal and our treaty with the Panama republic made us a South American power.

"We should have an army and navy which could resist any possible invasion from Europe—a navy as large as that of Germany and a trained force of men from which we could mobilize 500,000 soldiers in a month or even six months."

"President Wilson says in the next war we will not be neutral. That is profoundly true. In the next war the explosion will be worldwide and there will be no room for neutrals."

The ex-President concluded by urging this country to take the leadership in a movement for a world league to enforce peace.

GERMANY MUST GIVE BERNSTORFF SAFE CONDUCT

First Time Nation Ever Asked to Grant Own Envoy Guarantee

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—For the first time in diplomatic history, a government will be requested to grant a safe conduct to its own ambassador. Officials of the Scandinavian-American line declared today that they would not allow the Frederick VIII to sail with Count von Bernstorff and his suite on board unless Germany, as well as England and France, guarantee the safety of the passengers and ship.

Suggest Second Class Mail Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Senate postoffice subcommittee reported today to the committee of the whole an increase in second class mail rates of one-half a cent per pound for this year and an additional half a cent per pound next year.

The entire committee already has raised many protests against such an increase. It has not yet been recommended to the Senate.

Neutral States Were Sounded, Says Tisza

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 9.—Before launching her ruthless submarine warfare, Germany sounded the European neutral states and made sure that they would not break with her, according to an interview with the Hungarian premier, Count Tisza, in the Vossische Zeitung today.

CABINET IS CONSIDERING WAR ISSUES

Government's Waiting Attitude to Proceed in Accordance With Wilson's Expressed Policy; Gerard's Case Heard

By John Edwin Nevin, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President Wilson and his cabinet had before them this afternoon all of the information so far compiled by the state department dealing with the new activities of the German submarine campaign. They also had such information as could be secured dealing with the German submarine campaign. They also had such information as could be secured dealing with the German submarine campaign.

First—Efforts of neutrals, including new almost all neutrals, excepting the United States—to have a conference called at Madrid, with a view to confining the war to its present limits, and if possible to get secret or public assurances from Germany that, although she does not rescind her "barred zone" decree, she will not harm American or other neutral rights.

Second—An effort by this government to avoid a break with Austria by having Austria modify her endorsement of Germany's under-sea campaign, and BERNSTORFF'S AMBITION.

Third, and last—The expected efforts of German Ambassador Von Bernstorff to preserve peace after he reaches Berlin, provided, of course, the "overt act" has not been committed by Germany by that time.

(This, apparently, is an independent move on Bernstorff's part, though it is admitted it can scarcely fail to meet with this government's approval.)

Rumors of this sub-surface peace plan have been prevalent for several days, but not until today did the full extent of the move become known.

The two big trump cards are the secret moves of neutral diplomats here to stall off war between the United States and Germany and the German, envoy's known and aggressive desire to preserve the peace for which he has long struggled.

Administration officials themselves do not admit that the moves are going on under the surface, but the United Press learned definitely that the neutral program in and out of the state department has been at least unofficially advised of the neutrals' intentions.

DR. RITTER LEADER.—The Swiss minister, Dr. Paul Ritter, is a leading spirit in the conference plan. He and the other neutrals have conferred among themselves about keeping all the new neutral countries out of the struggle, and it

Every effort was being made to secure the card fact through the Spanish embassy in Berlin and American diplomatic representatives in Scandinavian countries.

Emergency preparations for war, should it finally come, were being continued. The war department was hurrying work on artillery and rapid-fire gun contracts and the navy department was expediting the work on all ships at the various yards throughout the country.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt was in New York conferring with the heads of military. Nothing possible was being left undone for the advancement of national preparedness, officials said.

Children in Wreck Held Not Citizens

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Two children of foreign born parents, but themselves born in this city and therefore potentially Americans, according to international lawyers, were lost in the sinking of the liner California by a German submarine.

They were James and Mary O'Donnell, 9 and 7 years old. With their mother, Mrs. Mary J. O'Donnell, and a brother—Cornelius, 13—they were returning to Scotland to visit their grandmother. Mrs. O'Donnell and the two children are missing and believed lost, but Cornelius was saved.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The O'Donnell children are not American citizens state department officials held today. Their parents were British subjects; they themselves could have elected when they became of age, whether they should be American citizens or British subjects.

Inasmuch as the O'Donnell children never made the choice of citizenship at an age when they could have done so because of their American birth, they were American citizens, authorities held today.

NEUTRALS WILL ASK HEARING ON DIVER WAR

"Sub-Surface" Campaign to Keep the United States Out of Struggle Powerful Force

BERNSTORFF TO TAKE HAND

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President Wilson framed a definite course to be pursued in case Germany commits the "overt act" mentioned in his address to Congress. He will not ask Congress for a declaration of war, but will do just what was promised in the address and ask that he be allowed to use whatever measures he deems necessary to protect American seamen and travelers.

By ROBERT J. BENDER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—While the United States hopes almost against hope—and prepares for any eventuality—a tremendous sub-surface move to keep this country at peace is now proceeding.

With what is believed to be the secretly tacit, but wholly informal, sanction of this government, the move today had developed along three lines—namely:

First—Efforts of neutrals, including new almost all neutrals, excepting the United States—to have a conference called at Madrid, with a view to confining the war to its present limits, and if possible to get secret or public assurances from Germany that, although she does not rescind her "barred zone" decree, she will not harm American or other neutral rights.

FORD OFFERS TO LOAN U. S. PLANT AND WEALTH

Pacifist to Give His Services Without Profit

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Henry Ford stands ready today to loan to the government any part of his vast fortune, in addition to turning over his manufacturing plant at Detroit and his other properties, to the government.

"You can't tell about us pacifists," Ford said. "Sometimes I think a pacifist is like a cat. It may seem a gentle creature that you can fondle—an innocent, harmless sort of thing. But back the cat up in a corner—or a pacifist—and you've got the worst kind of a fighter you've ever seen."

Ford declared his belief in the "baby submarine" and said he would stake his reputation as a manufacturer on the success of the one-man undersea craft. He asked if it wasn't worth something to the government to have a baby a plant which could manufacture 3000 automobiles, each capable of carrying ten men, every day.

"Think how they could transport their soldiers," Ford said. "The other day I noticed a lot of flags flying," Ford said. "A good many seemed to be from bank buildings. They all seemed patriotic—for profit—which is what actuates nations except our own United States) to fight wars."

"But I didn't see any signs of picks and shovels or khaki about those bank buildings, indicating they were offering a princely help to the United States except what they could profit from."

Ethel Crocker and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid Safe

SAN MATEO, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and Miss Ethel Crocker have arrived safely in London, according to a cablegram received today. They passed through the "barred zone" en route.

ENVOY WILL LEAVE FOR AMERICA BY SATURDAY

Secretary Lansing Still Holds to Opinion That Germany Unintentionally Detained the U. S. Ambassador in Berlin

EMBASSY STAFF READY TO DEPART

All Preparation to Leave the Teuton Capital Completed for the Probable Departure for Switzerland Tomorrow

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Feb. 9.—The state department has asked Germany why the departure of Ambassador Gerard from Berlin was delayed.

This action was taken through the Swiss minister, Secretary Lansing expressed himself as doubtful if Germany intentionally held Gerard.

While a United Press dispatch said Gerard would leave Saturday, the department has not been notified of this officially.

"I am very loath to believe that the German government is intentionally detaining Gerard in Berlin on any excuse whatsoever," Secretary Lansing said today.

He explained that he had heard nothing today from Berlin and repeated that the reported detention of Gerard had come to the department's attention officially from Minister Egan at Copenhagen.

Lansing suggested Gerard may have been delayed by the volume of work in communicating with consuls. Gerard can file plain messages up until the time of his departure, though he has not been able to file messages since February 5.

READY FOR DEPARTURE. BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Feb. 9.—Preparations for departure from Berlin of American Ambassador Gerard, his staff, American Red Cross officials and consular officials, were completed today.

A special train, in two sections, will probably leave Berlin tomorrow for Bern. On the same day the Spanish ambassador in Berlin will formally begin representation of American interests in Germany.

Arrangements for this step in the severance of diplomatic relations between America and Germany were made at a conference which Gerard held Thursday afternoon with Count Monteglas of the imperial foreign office.

Count Monteglas called at the embassy and had a lengthy talk with Gerard. It was then that the American was formally told that he could leave. Gerard then received word through the United Press that the German government would have passports ready in time for departure Saturday and had instructed his staff to prepare to leave on that date.

In talking with Count Monteglas, Gerard obtained permission for certain newspaper correspondents in Berlin to depart with him on the first section of the train. The second section, it was announced, will carry American consuls and Red Cross officials.

HOPP CASE ANGLE. NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Belief that the action of the German government in holding up Ambassador Gerard's passports was a move to bring the American authorities to dismiss criminal proceedings pending against former attaches at the imperial embassy was expressed at the United States district attorney's office here today.

Most of the big neutrality cases have been handled from this office.

It is from the state department now has under consideration the cases pending against Captain Franz von Papen, former military attaché; Wolf von Igell, his secretary, and Captain Hans Faischer, husband of Mrs. Galski; Franz Bopp, former San Francisco consul, and others, under indictment or convicted in connection with alleged plots to blow up the Welland canal and other alleged violations of neutrality. The belief here is that the indictments will be ordered dismissed.

When President Wilson broke diplomatic relations with Germany, District Attorney Marshall turned the cases over to the state department to avoid any embarrassment to the government.

The defendants are under heavy bail and the sureties on their bond would have to consent to their departure from the country or forfeit the sureties unless the criminal indictments are dismissed.

GUNMEN IN CHINATOWN ARE WATCHED

Tong War in North and Shooting in San Jose, May Spread Oriental Fight to Oakland—Police Watch for Tongmer

Momentary outbreak of a tong war in Oakland is feared by the local police as the result of a revolver battle in Portland between the allied Hip Sing and Boi Leong tongs and the Sui Sing tong. Shortly upon the "heating" of the report of this shooting in which one man was killed, came the news from San Jose that a Hip Sing was shot in that city this morning. Warnings of trouble came to the Chinese leaders in Oakland, and the police were advised by the authorities of Portland and San Jose to be vigilant.

The battle between the tongs in Portland took place last night as the result of a quarrel over a debt of $3 which the Chinese say had been owing to a tongman in Seattle for several months. M. Len, a Sui Sing, who is believed to have come from Seattle on this matter, was shot and killed. An empty revolver holster was found on his hip. T. Hokira, a Japanese, was accidentally wounded by a stray bullet and an unidentified Chinese was hurt.

Five or six gunmen took part in the battle in which more than twenty-five shots were fired. Chinese who are friendly to the police, declare that the tong war was scheduled to open last night in Seattle as well.

The San Jose tong members became Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy has brought health and happiness to many who thought themselves beyond aid.

Diabetes is a peculiar and baffling disease which the medical profession seems to be unable to accurately describe and definitely cure despite the many years of experimenting and research by foremost physicians throughout the world.

Symptoms of the disease are, increased thirst, excess of urine, emaciation and dry skin, often with sweetish odor.

Following are a few voluntary words of praise from a man who has used Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy with gratifying results. Perhaps you may be benefited in a like manner.

MACHINIST ACTS AS OWN LAWYER

Cross-Examines Divorced Wife—Court Sustains Alimony Ruling for Husband.

Cross-examining his wife, taking the witness-stand on his own behalf and pleading his own cause in a lengthy argument before the court, Francis Hawthorne, a machinist, acted as his own attorney this morning before Superior Judge T. W. Harris and won a favorable judgment in his contest against a motion for increase of alimony made by his divorced wife, Louie Hawthorne. He had a dozen duly qualified members of the legal profession were compelled to wait an opportunity to get the ear of Judge Harris in various cases while the amateur attorney conducted his defense.

The Hawthornes were divorced about a year ago. In her complaint the wife alleged that her husband had taken her off to an isolated ranch in the mountains twenty-five miles from a railway and that he had compelled her to live in the same house with a flock of turkeys. She was granted her decree on the ground of cruelty.

Mrs. Hawthorne was awarded alimony of $25 a month for herself and two small children. Recently she petitioned the court for an increase to $10 a month, and the matter came up for hearing this morning.

Hawthorne appeared and informed Judge Harris that he would have to act as his own attorney because he was "broke" and had no money to hire a lawyer. Judge Harris allowed him to proceed, with the result that the alimony will remain the same.

Council Votes Down Gas Inspection Act

Over the single affirmative vote of Commissioner Jackson, the city council today killed an ordinance for final passage which was designed to place the city departments taking over the inspection of gas plumbing which in the past has been done by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Representatives of the Master Plumbers Association opposed the measure, stating that they are satisfied with the present system, but that they would endorse certain proposed changes along different lines than covered by the ordinance.

John Eustace, plumbing inspector, who favored the license, stated to the council that if the city should take over the work additional inspectors would have to be employed, while a nominal fee would be charged persons having work done.

Says Wife's Threat Lost Him Property

In a plea which recites that his wife presented him with an unexecuted deed to his property in Berkeley and a demand to sign or be sued for divorce, Edward J. Cook has appealed to the superior court to have the instrument set aside. According to his complaint, Mrs. Ethel R. Cook told him that unless he signed the deed to her, she would file for divorce, a copy of the complaint in which she presented to him to read before he signed the deed.

He now declares that he was made so ill an attorney by the method of securing title to his holdings that for several days he did not realize what had taken place.

Famous Music Teacher Tells of Her Methods

The rooms of the old Howard home, 87 Vernon street, in which the Watson School is at present housed, were well filled with patrons and friends last Saturday afternoon. The occasion was a talk by Mrs. Oliver Wilson Dorsett on "Music and the Play Instinct." Mrs. Dorsett is a woman of wide musical experience. Her methods were successfully tested for three years at the summer school of the University of California. It is now being introduced in the kindergarten and primary departments of the Watson School by her pupil, Miss Margaret Folsom.

After Mrs. Dorsett's talk, the guests were entertained by the high school girls.

Municipal Positions Are Going Begging

Positions in the city employ are going begging, the civil service commission has discovered. Recently lists were posted on the city hall to take examinations for different positions, but so far the lists are incomplete, according to Secretary Frank Colbourn. The positions for which an eligible list is desired and the dates for the examinations are: draftsman, February 15; levee laborer, February 23; deckhand, March 5; usher, March 12; laborer, March 15; laboratory assistant, March 28.

The applications must be filed one week before the examination date.

Daughters Stop Burial, Hint at Foul Play

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Following a mad chase halfway across the country, the sudden halting of a funeral and the removal of the dead man's organs by San Bernardino county officials, interest in the alleged mystery surrounding the death of Henry Goebel, a wealthy engineer, shifted to this city today. Goebel's stomach is to be analyzed by a local chemist.

The funeral of Goebel was in progress at Pomona when Goebel's two daughters, Sadie and Marie, arriving from Wisconsin, appeared on the scene with county officers, and caused a postponement until they could investigate their father's death. They frankly questioned the death certificate's statement of anemia as the cause and hint at some "undue influence" in the affair.

Referendum Vote on War Demanded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Representative Callaway, today introduced a resolution providing that "Congress or the President" shall not declare war against a foreign government without a referendum vote of the people as advocated by William Jennings Bryan.

Callaway's resolution contended the people should determine any question of war with Germany. It was referred to the foreign affairs committee.

NEGRO NOT CITIZEN.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—George Washington, negro fireman on the steamship Turin, killed in the unwarmed German submarine attack on that vessel yesterday, was probably not an American citizen. The American consul at Liverpool formally reported to the embassy here today that first reports to this effect were apparently erroneous. The consul said Washington was a resident of Liverpool, had never registered as an alien there and it was understood he was born in Alberta.

SATTERWHITE TO APPEAL FOR COIN

Former Deputy in District Attorney's Office to Fight for Salary.

William Satterwhite, former deputy district attorney and now member of the legislature as assemblyman, today filed notice with District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes of an appeal from the decision rendered by Superior Judge William H. Hynes and William W. Waste, which held that County Auditor Frank Garrison need not pay Satterwhite his salary as deputy district attorney after his election to the assembly.

The decision followed the adoption of the constitutional amendment by the people providing that state officers could not hold two positions. Satterwhite applied to the court to set aside the decision against Garrison to test the law. He took the position that he held office under an elective office and as such was outside the constitutional limitation. In argument this point was amplified by an attempt to show that though a deputy district attorney, appointed by Hynes, he was in the category with Hynes insofar as the new law was concerned.

In offering the decision the judges held that any doubt about the matter should be resolved in favor of the intent of the people. The decision was against Satterwhite and will now go to the appellate court. Assistant District Attorney James Koford will appear for the District Attorney's office. He argued the case before Waste and Donahue.

President to Visit Capitol Frequently

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—President Wilson plans to visit the capitol executive departments frequently from now on whenever he desires information quickly, or wants to take any steps in connection with legislation. It was said officially today that no surprise or alarm need be felt if the President suddenly goes to the capitol at any hour of the day, or visits any member of his cabinet. So many pending questions have to be taken to the President has found it too slow to call to the White House all the men he desires to see.

Wilson is now making few routine engagements, and is keeping practically all his time open for work in connection with the foreign situation.

Plan to Rush Work on Warships Set Back

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The House rules committee refused this afternoon to report out a rule making in order Chairman Padgett's amendment to the navy bill to give $160,000,000 for immediate completion of warships.

Two more amendments incorporated in the same rule likewise were lost, one for a $1,000,000 appropriation for buying basic aeroplane patents, and one giving the President power to force precedence of government work in private shipyards.

this evidence, God have mercy on you for bring it before me. But you are not responsible for what may be brought before you and you must take it as it comes. There is some talk about a frameup here."

At this point Cunha began to picture the sufferings of the injured, and particularly the killing of Lawlor, and then went on to discuss the instructions which would likely be given by the court.

Cunha went at length into the evidence, and then, returning to his appraisal of Cockran, sought to give the impression that Mooney was innocent and had then changed his mind, and convinced of the guilt of his client, nevertheless had fought for his life.

In conclusion Cunha asked the jurors to do their duty as American citizens and bring in a prompt verdict. He made no mention of the death penalty.

Purity and Power

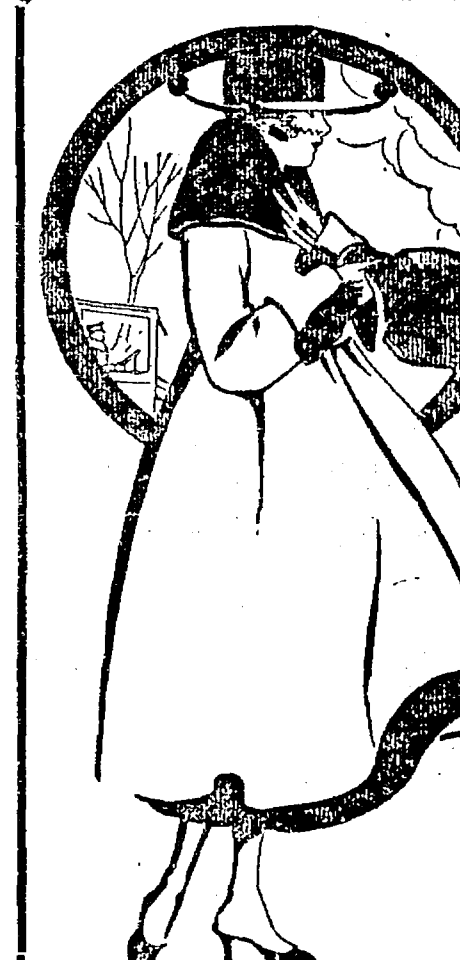

Necessary to Overcome Impure Blood and Weak Conditions.

The recent trying weather, exposure to storms, the grip, hard colds, pneumonia, fevers, diphtheria and other blood-poisoning, prostrating diseases leave the whole system subnormal—below par—weak and slow—blood depleted and thin, with that tired feeling, poor appetite, delicate digestive power or almost none at all.

The ideal treatment is Hood's Sarsaparilla—to be taken before meals—thoroughly to purify the blood and expel poisons, and Pepton Pills—to be taken after meals—to put power into the blood, give strength, increase red corpuscles and restore normal health-tone.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has for 40 years won and held the favor of the people. Pepton Pills are named from pepsin and iron and include pure and other good blood and stomach tonics.

Custodian Files Report on the Activities of Local Bureau—Profitable Advertisement to East Bay Region, He Says

In his report of the activities of the County Exposition Committee and results attained at the Panama-California International Exposition in San Diego, John C. Hayes, custodian of the Alameda County permanent exhibit in Los Angeles, says that Alameda County has the proud distinction of having been awarded more grand prizes and gold medals than any other California county, which is no small victory when it is taken into consideration that this county was in competition with the seven southland counties and nine San Joaquin Valley counties.

In brief, his report to the Alameda County Exposition Commission states that the exposition was opened officially for the second year on March 15, 1916, that Alameda County this year occupied the entire building which in 1915 was used jointly with Santa Clara county; that the exhibit was greatly enlarged and the addition of the three dioramas used in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915 added greatly to the enhancement of the exhibit that during the year more than 2,700 pieces of literature were given interested parties and over five thousand names and addresses filled in on the registration cards to all of whom illustrated literature had been mailed from the office of the commission.

TELLS OF AWARDS.
Hayes cites that forty-six awards were made to Alameda County and her exhibitors, consisting of seventeen grand prizes, twenty-four gold medals, four silver medals and one bronze medal. Of Alameda County's Day, June 19, several thousand samples of the products of the county were distributed in commercial size packages and the attendance on this day was over 15,000.

The attendance during the year was 1,697,856, as against 2,050,000 for 1915, but Hayes is of the opinion that more real interest was manifested with a view to locating than in the preceding year, and he believes that for several years to come every city and town in the county will feel the results of the work of this exposition, and in closing expressed his high appreciation of his assistant, Gallagher and Callaghan, and the support given him by the Board of Supervisors and the commission.

TO BE SHOWN HERE.
The exhibits are now being installed in the exposition building, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, this city.

IMPROVERS WILL SEEK LOWER TAX

Equalization of Rates Will Be Urged in Campaign by Association.

Determination to follow out the original purposes of the organization in securing an equalization of tax assessments throughout the county, which have been neglected for some time, lies at the bottom of the decision of the Alameda County Civic Association, representing some thirty civic and improvement clubs, at its regular meeting last night, to reopen the local situation through the assistance of experts.

The first attempt to sift what has long been the dream of the older members of the organization from the quiescence into which three years of neglect has left it, will be made on February 15, when, before a mass meeting of the association, James G. Stafford, tax expert and revaluation expert from Los Angeles, and one of the best known men in his line, will explain the methods used to secure an equalization of taxes in the southern city.

TO TELL OF VALUES.
Stafford's lecture will deal with the establishment of property values, the outlining of methods of increase and decrease, common causes of inflation and the methods employed under various systems of tax rates and assessments. The lecture will be the first of a series of lectures of a similar nature, to be delivered within the next few months, on the same subject, as preliminary to the inauguration of a campaign to place the organization on the basis for which it was originally organized.

Several matters of importance were transacted at the civic association meeting last night, in addition to the making of arrangements for the opening of the tax assessment campaign. Chief among these were the changes in the by-laws, presented and ratified by the members present. The reduction of the yearly dues to be paid by the component organizations to $4 per annum, the enactment of a provision preventing any member of the association from becoming or being an officer of the organization if a public officer or a candidate for public office, and the choice of standing committees of three to supervise city planning, public health, membership, judicial and public finance matters of interest to the association. The chairmen of these committees are to be appointed by the president of the civic association and with him and the secretary will comprise the executive committee of seven.

TO PROBE FRAUDS.
The association adopted a resolution approving the campaign for beautifying vacant lots with potato plants, inaugurated by the local committee in charge of the national work, at the request of B. R. Douglas and J. H. McLane, potato representatives. A committee of seven, headed by Dr. Carl Walliser, was also appointed to meet with Mayor John L. Davis on February 18, at the calling of the advisory committee which is to take up an investigation of the traction and Southern Pacific street franchise situation and development work. At that time the second phase of the eastbay railroad situation will be opened up.

Judgment by default was entered yesterday against Eugene L. Brock, wealthy realty operator of Berkeley, in favor of Mrs. H. C. Chivers, who in an answer and cross-complaint has charged Brock with causing them to lose pictures valued at $211,000. According to the pleadings of the action, Brock had contracted with the Chivers to sell the valuable collection of paintings. Brock defaulted in the latter, the paintings were attached by the sheriff and thereafter the action instituted in which yesterday Judge Murray in San Francisco entered a judgment in favor of the owners.

Three Steel Steamers, First to Be Built for England in the Last Half Century in America Ordered at Union Iron Works

Speed Stipulation Leads to the Credence of Rumor That Ships Will Be Used for Liners by Cunard Steamship Co.

Three steel steamers, the first to be built for England in the United States during the last half century, are to be constructed at the Union Iron Works, according to advices received from New York, and it is probable that one or more of the vessels will be placed on the ways at the Alameda plant of the company. The three vessels are to be completed in eleven months at a cost of at least $1,250,000 each, or a total of nearly $4,000,000.

Despatches from the Eastern office of the company say that the vessels are to be freighters, but the fact that a speed of eleven and one-half knots is stipulated leads credence to the rumor that they are really intended to be used as Cunard liners. Steel construction throughout is called for and each vessel is to have 10,000 tons registry.

SHIPPING RAVAGED.
The significant point of this contract is that England has been forced, through the ravages of the German U-boats, to go outside of her own shipyards for the building of new vessels. During the year 1916 the restricted activities of the submarines resulted in the sinking of 2,000,000 tons of shipping. If the U-boats maintain during the next five weeks the same record that they made during the first week of the unrestricted campaign they will sink a total tonnage equal to everything that England built during 1916.

It is rumored that there will have to be a raise of wages at the Union Iron Works to keep on hand the necessary skilled mechanics for carrying out the contracts. According to reports in labor circles, many of the men who are receiving $4 and $5 a day are preparing to leave the company for positions elsewhere offering from $250 to $300 a month. It is said that Japanese contractors are offering these salaries in order to induce skilled workers to the Pacific and work in Japanese shipyards.

CAPACITY OF PLANTS.
A survey of the Union Iron Works has been made by officials in order to ascertain the exact capacity of the San Francisco and Alameda plants in the event that the United States government for war purposes, it was found that two submarines could be turned out (104 a year) and a torpedo-boat destroyer once every two months (six a year). If capital ships are wanted, such as battleships or battle cruisers, these can be completed in three years.

The Union Iron Works has now nine ships—five in San Francisco and four in the Oakland yard. Should battleship work be undertaken it will be in the Oakland yard. Four submarines can be built simultaneously in one slip, or two destroyers.

The contest closed yesterday and the judges, in whose number are included President Rainhardt, Dr. Fione Trevor, head of the English department, Miss Elizabeth Stoner, head of the department of physical education, and Miss Dorothy Heltman, student representative, will make their selection of the winner during the coming week.

A choice of any of the favored campus spots for presentation as the scene of the fete is permitted the contestants, who were unlimited as to range of subject.

The May Fete is an annual affair at Mills, and attracts a large number of visitors, who are eager to witness its presentation out of doors.

Will Not Send Lobby to Capital
Naval Base to Be Chosen on Worth

The following statement was issued yesterday from the offices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce:

In view of the departure for Washington of a delegation representing the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, to urge the selection of Hunter's Point as a naval base, representatives of the east bay communities which have offered sites held a meeting this (Thursday) afternoon at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. After a full discussion of the situation it was unanimously decided to send no delegation to Washington at this time in view of the fact that the naval base commission has, as yet, made no recommendation in favor of any particular site.

East Bay to Present New Data on Naval Base Sites
Organizations Plan to Eliminate Expense of Lobbying in Washington

Without going to the expense of sending a delegation to Washington to lobby in Congress for the selection of an east bay site for the proposed new naval base for the Pacific coast, the commercial and semi-divine organizations actively engaged in the campaign to bring the important ship yards to this side of San Francisco bay are planning to rely upon the additional data which will be presented to the members of the board of naval base sites by the east bay organizations who have returned from Bremerton for another inspection of the local locations offered.

Members of the naval board called today on United States District Attorney Preston and discussed with him certain details of the site selection situation. Recently Preston was instrumental in having prepared a bill that would transfer to the United States the title land property in Alameda that was investigated by the board.

Preston would not discuss the details of the conference he held today with the members of the board, but he did say that they came to him for "certain legal advice."

The presence of the board here and the fact that the members have arranged for a conference with Mayor Frank Bartlett of Alameda on Monday day are taken as most hopeful indications, and it is felt that there is no necessity to rush to Washington. But there is still plenty of room for surmise as to which one of the east bay locations will be ultimately recommended by the naval board.

DRURY GETS MESSAGE.
On the other hand Secretary Wells Drury of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce said this morning that telegrams from Congressman J. Arthur Elston give encouragement to those who advocate the Berkeley-Albany-Richmond site.

"It seems clear to us that all the indications point our way," he said.

"While it is true that the naval board headed by Admiral Helm did not procure the site for one of the four sites that are included in the list for further investigation, there is one significant passage in the report that gives great satisfaction to the advocates of the Berkeley-Albany-Richmond site. It is that the commission asks for an appropriation of $1,500,000 with which to purchase the site which may be chosen on San Francisco bay."

"Now it appears from the report of the appraisers appointed by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce that the Berkeley-Albany-Richmond site may be obtained for $1,350,000, which would leave only a comfortable margin of the million and a half asked for by the commission to pay for incidental expenses and possibly for a little more land than originally contemplated. An appropriation of $1,500,000 could not be considered in the purchase of the Hunter's point site, as it would cost about double that amount, according to estimates furnished by real estate experts.

If the Goat Island location were in view no money would be needed, as the island already belongs to the government and is mainly in the possession of the navy department. Alameda has offered its proposed site free of charge and therefore no appropriation would be required to get it. By the process of elimination it seems that the Berkeley-Albany-Richmond site has a good chance to win the approval of the naval commission.

STORY NOT CREDITED.
"Some of the San Francisco papers repeat this morning the intimation that Hunter's point seems to be favored by the navy board. In the opinion of those who live on this side of the bay this assumption is entirely gratuitous, as there is nothing in the report as given by the members of the board to warrant that interpretation. Not only that, but the Chamber of Commerce last evening received from Congressman Elston a telegram that bears out this view of the case."

The telegram from Congressman Elston, to which reference is made, is in some respects more concise than the press despatches. It says:

"The Helm report is made public today. It recommends Alameda, Albany, Hunter's point and Goat Island for further investigation and consideration as location for naval base and navy yard on San Francisco bay."

ORPHANS TO MEET
WILL M. CRESSY

The Rotary Club Will Help The Tribune Bring Them to the Great Travelogue.

The Oakland Rotary Club is going to help The TRIBUNE bring the orphans of Oakland to the great travelogue at the Orpheum theater tomorrow morning. The Rotary Club will supply fifty automobiles tomorrow afternoon and will visit the various institutions of Oakland and pick up the little ones and bring them to the Orpheum theater as the guests of The TRIBUNE.

The TRIBUNE was determined that the orphans of Oakland should have an opportunity to meet Will Cressy and hear his $50,000 travelogue as the more fortunate children with homes and parents. The TRIBUNE felt that these youngsters would be most interested in Will Cressy and his talk and Will Cressy would be in them. These children had no home to which The TRIBUNE could be served so that they could clip the admission ticket-coupon, and worst of all they did not have parents to whom they could go for ten cents car fare to take them down and back. The TRIBUNE wanted some way by which these children could be taken to the theater and back.

So The TRIBUNE went to work, and found that the Oakland Rotary Club was the kind of an institution that went to work also.

The Rotary Club had Will Cressy at their luncheon yesterday, and when they met the kindly actor who loves children and wants to take them all into his big heart and give them what he can from his travel experience, the members of the Rotary Club said that they would support The TRIBUNE and help the paper bring the orphans of Oakland to the Orpheum theater tomorrow morning.

The result was that the members of the Rotary Club pledged fifty automobiles for the use of The TRIBUNE tomorrow morning. These automobiles will gather at the Hotel Oakland before 10:30 o'clock in the morning and will make the rounds of the various orphanages and bring the less fortunate children of the city to the Orpheum theater tomorrow morning.

And now for the last word about the Cressy-TRIBUNE travelogue at the Orpheum theater tomorrow morning.

The TRIBUNE wants every child to be the guest of the paper at this splendid event.

There is no cost to any child and none but children under fifteen years of age will be admitted.

Clip the coupon-ticket that will be found in another part of this or any TRIBUNE of the week and bring it to the Orpheum theater for the Cressy travelogue.

There is no other cost.

No adults will be admitted at any price. The TRIBUNE will have a staff of people on hand to care for all who come. There can be no danger to anyone, the greatest care will be taken to see that the youngsters have attention and a good time.

Think of what a jolly Saturday this will be for the kiddies.

They will meet one of the greatest actors of the day. They will listen to and see one of the greatest travelogues ever prepared. They will have the kindly gentleman whom hundreds of green uppers have paid big prices to see and listen to, tell them stories and do for them for nothing what these grown ups were only too anxious to pay for.

And all this will be done just for the kiddies and because the kindly actor-narrator has such a warm spot in his heart for all of them that he is willing to give his time and his talent to do this. The TRIBUNE feels proud that the paper is able to invite the children of Oakland and the east bay section to meet Will M. Cressy and The TRIBUNE will do everything in its power to help Mr. Cressy entertain them.

The Oakland County Boy Scouts will attend the Cressy travelogue in a body, notice having been sent out to meet at the Orpheum at 10:30. Immediately after the performance the Scouts will go on their annual hike.

Minneapolis Artists to Play in Concerts

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will appear twice tomorrow at the Oakland Auditorium opera house. In the afternoon a "pop" symphony concert will be given and at night a wonderful symphonic program, augmented by the Saint-Saens cello concerto, with the famous cellist, Cornelius Van Vliet, as the soloist, will be the attraction. Emil Oberholfer and his men gave their first concert in San Francisco yesterday, and at once satisfied the most critical that the organization is as great, if not even greater, than was claimed for it.

The Minneapolis players have been culled from the best musicians in the world, so no wonder the orchestra as a whole has attained the perfection that it exhibited yesterday in San Francisco. The "pop" tomorrow afternoon is as important a program as is given at most

Shoots Broker Over Financial Reverses

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Gaining access by a ruse to the home of Sol Friedman, a wealthy cotton broker, while guests were arriving there to attend a reception, Balie P. Cantrell, president of a raincoat company, fired five shots at Friedman, one of which seriously wounded the cotton broker in the chest. Cantrell then committed suicide.

Friedman said Cantrell accused him of being responsible for financial reverses. The Friedman servants had been ordered not to admit Cantrell, but he was enabled to pass them because he had shaved his moustache and presented a card bearing the name of a man in Chicago.

Shortly before going to the Friedman home, Cantrell had sent a bouquet of roses to Friedman and they were in the room where the shooting occurred.

U. S. TO INCREASE RECRUITS 25,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Recruiting agents have been instructed to secure 25,000 additional men. The current naval bill authorized a peace strength of 74,000 men, it carried appropriations for considerably less than that number since the department had estimated that in the normal course of events not more than 10,000 recruits of events necessary to replace men discharged could be found. Officials have been encouraged by recruiting returns during the winter months, however, which have brought the actual strength up to nearly 53,000 men already.

STOCKTON, Feb. 9.—Although Stockton voted $200,000 bonds in 1913 for school buildings and thought the city's needs would be taken care of for ten years, the schools are now congested and more buildings are needed. NEW 'LEAK' FACTS BEFORE INQUIRY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—New life suddenly was injected into the "leak" inquiry today by testimony of George R. Chipman, local manager for Harriman & Co., New York brokers, that certain members of the House of Representatives dealt in stocks with him. Chairman Henry called for the names of the members and Chipman promised to furnish them.

Chipman testified that so far as he knew no member of Congress had sold stocks "short" during the "peace note" leak. He said he had no recollection of names on his books, but was unable to say whether his customers included secretaries to senators and representatives.

Chipman declared that he had not paid for "tips" or governmental activities since 1914. He found, he said, that information he bought usually was of no value.

J. L. Livermore, Wall street's widely known "three times millionaire," Chipman said, wired him from New York December 20 asking him if he had heard a peace note was to be issued. Chipman replied negatively. Livermore responded with information which Cleverly, Curtis & Co. of Chicago previously had sent E. F. Hutton & Co. Chipman replied that he thought the report untrue.

Later in the day Chipman said he called upon F. A. Connolly of F. A. Connolly & Co., and learned that a peace note was to be issued.

How to Avoid Stomach Troubles. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated. Your food should be suited to your age and occupation. People of sedentary habits should eat little meat, but should drink an abundance of water, especially when they first get up in the morning and before eating. When you feel dull and stupid after eating, that shows that you have eaten too much. The bowels should be kept regular. When needed take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. Resolutions were adopted calling upon all who had had military experience to unite in an effort to obtain national legislation to enforce universal military service under federal control.

PAID TO MAINTAIN PEACE, HE SAYS

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Twenty thousand dollars was paid Michael J. (Umbrella Mike) Boyle by Horace F. Hill, vice president of the Chicago Telephone Company, to maintain peace among the workmen on the company's skyscraper when it was under construction. Hill testified in the trial of four electrical workers' union business agents and eleven Chicago manufacturers of electrical supplies. They are charged with conspiring to boycott any goods, union or nonunion, not made here, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. Boyle testified that the payment was a contribution of the patriotic feelings of the country.

CALOMEL BAD FOR THE LIVER

Dose of Nasty Calomel Makes You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it causes it to cramp and causes nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Advertisement.

SPEEDER'S BAD LUCK LOWERS PUNISHMENT

Kramm Tells Tale of Woe and Is Let Off With $10 Fine

CENTERVILLE, Feb. 9.—Hermann Kramm, an automobile repairer of Berkeley, who admitted a charge of speeding here, has had such a series of misfortunes lately that Justice of the Peace T. O. Mattos reduced his fine to $10. Kramm's ill-luck started some time ago and continued to follow him when he was called to Centerville on his motor bicycle to repair a broken-down automobile. By the time he had made the repairs it was nearly dark. He speeded up in order to reach home before darkness set in and fell foul of a speed trap.

When Kramm was brought before Judge Mattos he told how, previous to his arrest, he had been in the hospital for several months with blood poisoning and how he had lost his job.

Eighteen speeders were fined by Judge Mattos yesterday, the fines collected aggregating $425.

GREEK CHURCH PLANNED HERE

Local Hellenic Residents Plan Meetings to Start Congregation.

Efforts toward the establishment here of a Greek church will be made in the immediate future by members of the newly formed Hellenic community of Oakland and vicinity, an organization of 300 individuals. Following formation recently of the organization plans were immediately laid for obtaining public interest in the project.

According to officers of the organization, 3000 Greek residents, adults and children, live in Alameda and vicinity. Spiritual advice is considered a necessity and in answer to that demand, say prominent members of the local colony, many of the membership travels each Sunday to San Francisco, where service is given in the Greek church there.

With the purpose in view of uniting the Greek residents here in a body actively interested in the establishment of an Oakland church, the Hellenic community was formed. New members are joining daily, and within a short interval it is expected that the organization will be of extraordinary strength and numbers.

Officers of the community are: President, James Papageorge; vice-president, Louis Nafes; treasurer, Nic Lufas; secretary, James M. Lekas; directors, A. Patasaris, N. Papageorge, S. Piperis, N. Lekas, C. Pagotis, S. Tsacanos, Frank Mishell and A. Sacas.

Following definite campaign plans, made soon, efforts will be begun for the collection of funds, the building of a structure and the establishment here of a Greek church representative.

UNITED STATES TO BUILD GIGANTIC CANNON

WORK RUSHED ON BIG GUNS, NEW SHIPS

Bethlehem Works Are Ordered to Stop on Minor Weapons and Concentrate on Guns for United States Field Artillery

Cannon of 9.2 Caliber Will Be More Formidable Than the 42-Centimeter of the German Army, Is Claim of Experts

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Secretary of War Baker today sent direct orders to the Bethlehem steel plant to cease work on minor orders for the War Department and concentrate all available men immediately on the production of thirty-nine batteries of four-inch and thirteen batteries of six-inch guns for the United States field artillery.

These guns will be built from designs completed as the result of the observation of military officials in Europe.

Work also will be speeded on new war vessels. The Bethlehem plant will immediately commence to turn out a 9.2 gun for the United States, which it is declared will prove a far more efficient weapon than the 42-centimeter guns of the German army. These guns, as a result of new departure in design, will not be wasteful and can be handled far easier than any weapon of similar design now in use in Europe.

FORMIDABLE WEAPON. The new four and six-inch guns are to be distributed to artillery units as soon as they can be completed. Up to the present the guns in use have been the three-inch pieces, and it is admitted that they are of decidedly doubtful usefulness. The 9.2 guns will be an experiment, but the ordnance experts declare that they are convinced they will prove a decidedly formidable weapon.

Secretary Baker has taken personal charge of the work. He now is examining the offers made by the managers of a new plant and large orders for materials will be given as soon as specifications can be completed. One gun, which is to be manufactured in as large quantities as possible is rapid-fire guns. All plants now constructing these for the army have been ordered put on an extra-time basis.

'War for Freedom,' Says Brice Believes That Peace Is Nearer

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Viscount Brice, former British ambassador to the United States, gave to the Associated Press his views on the current phases of the war, speaking first of Germany's declaration of war zones and the menace to neutrals, he said: "This is the first definite step that brings us nearer to peace. It looks like the beginning of the end. Up till now many thought the outcome of the war might be a draw, but now the German government, recognizing approaching economic exhaustion, has become desperate and is resorting to desperate measures. Seeing no other hope of success it is throwing over every remaining restraint of law and proclaiming its contempt of neutral opinion."

"It undertook the invasion of Rumania, which the world would accept the discount in Germany and enable it to dictate peace on its own terms. When the German armies scored success in Rumania, the German government thought the time for dictating peace had come. This was its calculation. But the offer was made in a way which showed the terms were to be imposed by a conqueror, which rather than retain most of the ill-gotten gains, ought to know the allies could not possibly admit such terms."

DESPERATE EXPEDIENTS. "When the allies unanimously rejected the offer because they knew it was a desperate and a durable peace, the German government became desperate and decided to try desperate expedients. Hence these submarine threats which almost amount to a declaration of war against neutrals. "They began by invading Belgium, an innocent country with which they had no quarrel, merely to gain a military advantage. They slaughtered thousands of innocent Belgian civilians, men, women and children. They drowned innocent passengers and crews of passenger and merchant ships, many of them neutrals, 1200 on the Lusitania alone."

"They stood by and tacitly acquiesced in the plan of their Turkish allies to exterminate the whole Christian nation of Armenians with unheard of cruelties. And now they are carrying into slavery many thousands of peaceful Belgian workmen who are driven by force to toil against their own country."

DEMANDS DEFEAT. "All these acts show absolute disregard not only of international law and treaty obligations, but what is far worse, scorn for the first principles of justice and humanity. This is what made us in England feel that no peace can be made with such a government until it had been defeated. It has put itself outside the pale of civilization and the interests of civilization require that its methods be branded by defeat."

"Nothing less than defeat will do. Nothing less than defeat will show the German people that they must get rid of such rulers. What we in England have been hoping is that neutral nations, especially people like the Americans, which so often have shown respect for justice and humanity, will understand what it is we are fighting for. It is not a war for territory or trade, like so many wars which have gone before it. It is a war for freedom."

British Take German Trenches Say That Teutons Are Discouraged

By William Philip Simms.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FLEED, Feb. 9.—The German troops' cup of pessimism is overflowing at the possibility of the United States entering the war, British officers declare. There is a noticeable discouragement to be seen in the attitude of recently taken German prisoners. Their general viewpoint is, "What's the use?"

These prisoners declare that news of America's break with Germany filtered through to the front very slowly without any details beyond the bare announcement.

British officers say the German spirit is steadily waning. The action of Grandcourt without any fighting by them is a surprising example of this sort of decreasing morale.

British forces are now astride Amre and are steadily pushing on toward Mramont. Since Tuesday they have taken 1200 yards of German-held territory, with a considerable number of prisoners and against remarkably little opposition.

A year ago the Germans would have disputed bloodily such an attempt by British forces.

Almost all prisoners admit the German spirit is much lower than formerly, officers declare. The British system of continuous raids, the policy of sudden attacks at unexpected times and places—each one different in style and execution—and the continual hammering away of British artillery have all told heavily on the Germans. Then came the prospect of America entering with the allies.

German wireless despatches recently claimed the re-taking of the Poulx trench, which the British captured by moonlight late Saturday. This position is on a slope dominating Grandcourt.

The evacuation of Grandcourt is an answer to these wireless claims.

JAPANESE SHIPS WILL CARRY GUNS

Special Precautions Taken to Protect Shipping From Germans.

TOKIO, Feb. 9.—Special measures have been taken by the Japanese naval department to protect Japanese shipping from German submarines. While details of the government's plans are kept secret for obvious reasons, it is understood that several steamers plying between Japan and England by way of the Suez canal will be armed with three-inch guns manned by naval gunners.

While there have been no reports of German submarines operating in the Pacific, passengers of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, which reached Yokohama from Vancouver yesterday, reported that unusual precautions were taken when the steamer left the Canadian port ten days ago. The liner's lights were extinguished or darkened for three days and the wireless was forbidden for the use of passengers.

Persistent rumors have been afloat that two German converted cruisers have appeared in the Indian Ocean and a despatch from the Bombay branch of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha reports a sudden rise in war insurance rates on account of these rumors. While nothing confirms the existence of the raiders, the reports have been considered of sufficient importance for the navy department to begin an investigation. Many warships of high speed, mostly small cruisers, have been used for patrol duty in the neighborhood of Singapore, Penang and other points on the Indian Ocean routes.

No Demonstrations in Berlin Over Break

ROTTERDAM, Feb. 9.—Neither excitement nor anti-American demonstrations greeted the news in Berlin that the United States had broken off diplomatic relations with Germany, according to a statement made today by a traveler who has just arrived from the German capital.

All Germans, officials as well as others, went out of their way to be scrupulously polite. The informant said, "Americans, especially some of the newspaper correspondents, spoke English in the hope that in the streets without arousing any resentment."

Discussing the food situation the traveler said: "We had the best rice bread I ever tasted. There was plenty of other food—meat as well as fish. It is perfect nonsense to talk of their having nothing to eat in Berlin. I should call the supply plentiful."

Invalid Burned to Death in Her Bed

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Frances Stricker, 47 years old, an invalid for many years, was burned to death in her bed today while her husband was away from home consulting a physician regarding her condition. How the bed caught fire has not been explained.

TWO OVERT ACTS, HELD BY BRITISH

Papers Declare U. S. Is Already Bound to Declare War With Germany; Offer English Idea of the Submarine Situation

Detention of Ambassador and Sinking of Turino and California Held to Be Direct Instances of Unfriendly Attack

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—England considers that Germany has committed at least two "overt acts" coming within the scope of those supposed to have been set by President Wilson as demanding the succeeding step from the United States of a war declaration against the Kaiser's government.

The detention of Ambassador Gerard is held by a number of London newspapers today to be the most serious affront to the United States which Berlin has offered to date. Only one of the London newspapers was advised of the Berlin government's action in announcing that passports would be ready for Gerard. But whether or not Germany actually does grant the passports, the fact remains that for a considerable time such diplomatic courtesy was denied the representatives of the United States government. Such a course is contrary to all international usage and was regarded here as a deliberate insult to the honor and dignity of the United States.

Coming within the scope of "overt acts," as construed by the London press, is the sinking of such ships as the California and the Turino without any warning. The fact that both vessels carried contraband was regarded as placing such attacks directly in the classification of those which President Wilson has hinted would be regarded as a cause for war.

INDIGNATION HIGH. Not since the Lusitania was sunk, with her death roll of women and children, has there been such a wave of indignation throughout England as that which greeted today publication of the detailed stories of survivors of the California.

The survivors' stories differ as to the number of submarines concerned in the unwarmed attack. Most of the crew said there were two submarines, two torpedoes were fired, but only one struck. This hit the liner in a vital spot with a terrific explosion, tearing her hull so much that she sank within seven minutes.

There were at least three Americans aboard the California—a negro fireman and two children—a naturalized American. These last two children, with their mother, were among the forty-one persons who were lost.

The same circumstances as to lack of warning and of Americans being aboard obtained in the case of the steamer Turino. Embassy information today indicated that two members of this vessel's crew were American citizens.

CITED AS CASES. Not only were the cases of the California and the Turino cited as extremes of German "frightfulness," but the complete story of the attack by the German submarine on the lifeboat carrying the Evestone survivors was believed to give true index of the utter disregard of all principles of international law and of the common law of humanity animating Germany.

Satisfaction is generally expressed here at the measures which have been taken by the admiralty to combat the German submarine menace. It was to be expected that the U-boats' initial activity would be large. Ships which were en route to the "hazard zone" were not fully prepared to repel attack nor to have other protection planned. From now on England expects to see a steady decrease in the total of sinkings. The utmost confidence is expressed in the British government's measures of protection.

URUGUAY WILL NOT RECOGNIZE U-BOAT WARFARE

Note to Berlin Protests Unwarmed Sinking of Neutral Ships

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

MONTEVIDEO, Feb. 9.—Uruguay agrees with the United States that neutrals cannot recognize Germany's "unrestricted submarine policy." A note strongly stating her position and "reserving Uruguay's right to act against actions contrary to the international usage" has been forwarded to Berlin, it was stated. Uruguay has also despatched a note to the United States answering President Wilson's plea to neutrals declaring she recognizes the justice and nobility of President Wilson's utterances.

PASSENGERS BOOK ON FOREIGN SHIPS

Reservations Cancelled on the Delayed Steamers; Others to Make Trips.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A number of persons who had engaged passage for Europe on ships of the American line cancelled their reservations today and booked on ships flying the flags of belligerent nations. Some of them took passage on the French liner Espagne which sails on Sunday for Bordeaux, and a few engaged cabins on the White Star liner Lapland, which will sail for Liverpool on Tuesday or Wednesday.

There are now only about forty first cabin passengers left on the St. Louis of the American line, but it is predicted that more will be booked as soon as the line decides to send her out. There are also sixty second-class and twenty third class passengers.

A wireless message from a passenger on the Holland-America Line steamship Ryndam, given out here, contained information that the liner, which sailed from New York for Rotterdam, January 29 and turned back when within a few hours of Paimouth, was warned by a German submarine to turn about just before entering the war zone. The American liner Kronland is due here late today but on account of the bad weather she may not arrive until tomorrow.

The only American vessel to clear here for an European port was the Saturday Is the Orleans, owned by the Orlean Navigation Company. She got her papers yesterday for Bordeaux.

PROHIBITION HEAD DIES IN SOUTH

Frederick F. Wheeler Passes Away in South After a Brief Illness.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Frederick F. Wheeler, capitalist and a national figure in the prohibition movement, died here late last night following a second hemorrhage of the brain. The first hemorrhage occurred Tuesday, but physicians held out hope of his recovery.

SUFFERED NINE YEARS

Many Remedies Tried in Vain. Well and Strong
After Taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Spartanburg, S. C.—"For nine years I suffered from backache, weakness, and irregularities so I could hardly do my work. I tried many remedies but found no permanent relief. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great change for the better and am now well and strong so I have no trouble in doing my work. I hope every user of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will get as great relief as I did from its use." Mrs. S. D. McABEE, 122 Dewey Ave., Spartanburg, S. C.

The reason women write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved. This is a praiseworthy thing to do and such women should be highly commended.

CAPTIVATING MARY CAPSTAIRS

By HENRY SYDNOR HARRISON

However, aesthetics, like everything else, has its place in human economy, and no more. No one aboard the Cyprant became so absorbed in the marvels of nature as to become insensible to other pleasures. The air, new and fine from the hands of its maker, acquired a distinct flavor of nicotine as it flitted past the yacht. From some hidden depth rose the subdued and convalescent snores of that early retiree, the sailing master's wife. Below forward, two deckhands were thoughtfully playing setback for pennies, while a machinist sat by and read a sporting extra by a swinging bulb. Above forward, on a coil of rope, McTosh, the head steward and one of Mr. Carstairs' oldest servants, smoked a bad pipe, and expectorated stochastically into the Hudson.

The thought of the essential commonplaceness of this sort of thing recurred to Peter Maginnis. For all his life of idleness, which was, as it were, accidental, Peter was essentially a man of action; and life's sedentary movements irked him sorely.

"Who is the individual monkeying around at the bow?" he asked presently.

"It is Mr. Bissott, the ship's engineer, who is putting a coat of white lead over the yacht's name."

"Aha! Aren't we old sleuths though! And what's that piece of stage play for?"

"All these little bookers," said Varney, "are listed in a book, which many persons own. Why have the local press tell everybody tomorrow that the yacht Cyprant belonging to Mr. Carstairs, husband once removed to our own Mrs. Elbert Carstairs, is anchored off these shores?"

"It seems," said Peter, "like a lot of smoke for such a little fire."

He got up and sprawled on the rail, his yellow Panama pulled far over his eyes, his gaze fixed on the shining water.

"First and last, I've seen rivers in my life," he said presently, "big and little, pretty and not, clean and rolled, decent and indecent. Yes, boy," said he, "you can take it from me that I've seen the world's darndest in the matter of rivers, and I have liked them all, from Ganges to the Sacramento and back again. There was a time when I didn't have that sort of personal feeling for 'em, but a little chap up in Canada, he helped me to the light. He was the keenest on rivers I ever knew."

He broke off to yawn greatly, started to resume, thought better of it, checked himself, and presently said in an absent voice:

"No, that's too long to tell."

"There's two hours till bedtime."

Peter straightened and began strolling aimlessly about the deck, half regretting that they had decided to spend the evening on the yacht. Varney looked after him with a certain sense of guilt. Against this background of quiet night and moonlit peace, his enterprise began to look small and easy. A ramble through the pleasant woods over there, a little girl met and played with, a leisurely stroll hand in hand down a woodland path to the yacht—was it for this that he had begged the assistance of Peter Maginnis, of the large administrative abilities and the teeming energies?

Varney began to be a little ashamed of himself. To follow out Peter's own figure, it appeared that he had called out the fire department to help him put out a smoking sheet of note paper on a hearth.

Soon, in one of his goings and comings, Peter halted. "There was another Hunston despatch in the paper this morning," he vouchsafed.

"Politics?"

"Said the reform movement was a joke."

"Good one?"

"Good movement, you mean?"

"No—good joke."

"No reform movement is ever a good joke, under any circumstances whatsoever. Where it appears a joke at all, it is the kind that would appeal only to pinheads of the dottiest nature."

"I see."

"I'm going up there tomorrow," said Peter, nodding toward the town, "and look into it a little. If there is time I may even decide to show these fellows how a reform proposition ought to be handled to insure results."

Far off on the hill a single light twinkled through the trees, yellow against the pale moonlight. Varney's eye fell upon it and absently held it. It was Mary Carstairs' light, though, of course, he had no means of knowing that.

U. S. Sends Berlin Word of Subjects' Protection

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—A copy of the statement issued last night on President Wilson's authority, assuring persons of foreign birth that in the event of war their property would not be seized; was transmitted to Berlin today. It was sent to the Spanish Ambassador, who is now in charge of American affairs at the German capital. The statement follows:

"The government of the United States will in no circumstances take advantage of a state of war to take possession of property to which international understandings and the recognized law of the land give it no just claim or title. It will scrupulously respect all private rights alike of its own citizens and of the subjects of foreign states."

STOMACH SYMPTOMS

A leading physician of Chicago says: "Merely easing the pain with narcotics to give relief is a long way from a cure for stomach trouble. Besides the danger of neglect or inadequate treatment may lead to more serious maladies. What appears to be only minor troubles are often the symptoms of gall stones, acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, auto-intoxication, yellow jaundice, appendicitis, cancer and ulcers of the stomach and intestines, or other fatal ailments. Stomach sufferers should take warning. Do not have blind faith in treatments that are giving no results. Much suffering could be avoided, many surgical operations prevented, scores of lives saved had Mayr's Wonderful Remedy been out treatment. It acts on the very source and foundation of stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, eliminating from the system the hard, poisonous catarrhal accretions and shows them to you. Try a dose tonight—tomorrow your days of torture will be over and another friend will be added to nearly a million grateful human beings, many who declare Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has saved their lives. Missing Captain of
Ferry Found in Bay

Life friends and fellow-workers of Hapley Hughes, a sixteen year chieftain of the ferry steamer Transit, found his body floating on the bay water last night, while the Southern Pacific boat was making a regular trip. The remains were brought to the shore and buried at the funeral home of the city.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning. Following a service in the Brown chapel, 534 Thirteenth street, private interment will take place at the cemetery of the city.

Hughes was a native of Wales, 69 years old, and had lived in this vicinity for many years, where he was well known among bay shipping men. Hughes disappeared from the Transit on January 14, nearly one month before his lifeless body was found floating in the bay. He was on the boat when it was hurled close to shore. Called to the wharf telephone for the purpose of answering a message, he never arrived. It is thought that he plunged into the water from a gang plank leading to the wharf.

Straggle, coincidentally, at the Transit was badly injured in a collision yesterday and was returned to the shipyard for repairs. As she docked the body of her old chief rose to the surface.

Carlo Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

"Bat-a-tat-tat!" came a knock on the door of the little bungalow in which lived Uncle Wiggly Longears, the rabbit gentleman.

"I'll go," spoke Nurse Jane, who had just finished washing the breakfast dishes, and when she opened the door she stood a funny little man, with a sharp nose and very bright eyes.

"If you please," he said, with a low, polite bow, "I have come for my magic fiddle."

"Your magic fiddle!" exclaimed Nurse Jane.

"I'll know what he wants," called Uncle Wiggly, as he opened the door.

"You're the little man who gave me the magic fiddle, aren't you?"

"I am," said the little man. "They were chasing me through the woods, and I had to play my magic fiddle to get away from them."

"I know you have a good use of my wonderful violin!"

"That's true," said the little man. "I know you would have some fun out of my fiddle, when I couldn't myself."

"When would you run away?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Because they were after me," explained the little man, "they would travel all about with my magic violin, and sometimes I play tricks on people."

"That's not a good thing to do," said Uncle Wiggly. "The last time I reached my magic fiddle, and as soon as I played the fiddle to or for anyone, anything he wished for or to do, he would take me to a place where I would never see him again."

"I don't see how you did," said Uncle Wiggly.

The Window at the White Cat.

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

After that, she apparently dismissed him from her mind, and we talked of her sister. Her mood had changed and it was depressing to find that she spoke of Jane always in the past tense. She could speak of her quite calmly, I suppose the sharpness of our emotions is in inverse ratio to our length of years, and she regretted that, under the circumstances, Jane would not rest in the family lot.

"We are all there," she said, "elven of us, counting my sister Mary's husband, although he doesn't properly belong, and I always said we would take him out if we were crowded. It is the best lot in the Hopedale Cemetery; you can see the shaft for two miles in any direction."

We held a family council that morning around Miss Letitia's bed; Wardrop, who took little part in the proceedings, and who stood at a window looking out most of the time, Margery on the bed, her arm around Miss Letitia's shriveled neck, and Hopple, who acted as interpreter and shouted into the old lady's ear such parts of the conversation as she considered essential.

"I have talked with Miss Fleming," I said, as clearly as I could, "and she seems to shrink from seeing people. The only friends she cares about are in Europe, and she tells me there are no other relatives."

Hopple condensed this into a vocal capsule, and thrust it into Miss Letitia's ear. The old lady nodded.

"No other relatives," she corroborated. "God be praised for that, anyhow."

"And yet," I went on, "there are things to look after, certain necessary duties that no one else can attend to. I am able to go to the city house, for a few hours, at least."

"I'll try," Hopple yelled in her ear. "I'll be cleaned," Miss Letitia acquiesced, "and fresh curtains put up. Jane would have been in her element; she was always handy at a funeral. And fleeting glimpses of a man loading on a don't let them get one of those let-down-the-side coffins. They're leaky." Luckily Margery did not notice this.

"I was going to suggest," I put in hurriedly, "that my brother's wife would be only too glad to help, and if Miss Fleming will go to town with me, I am sure Edith would know just what to do. She isn't curious and she's very capable."

Margery threw me a grateful glance, grateful, I think, that I could understand how under the circumstances, a stranger was more acceptable than curious friends could be.

"Mr. Knox's sister-in-law!" interpreted Hopple.

"When you have to say the letter 's,' turn your head away," Miss Letitia rebuked her. "Well, I don't object, if Miss Knox's sister-in-law don't."

She had an uncanny way of expanding Hopple's words into peaches. You can take my word, she was a very capable body, but she was to bring it back. We may need it for Jane."

If the old lady's chin quivered a bit, while Margery threw her across around her, she was mightily ashamed of it. But Hopple was made of weaker stuff. She broke into a sudden storm of sobs and left the room, to stick her head in the door a moment after.

"Kidneys or chops?" she shouted almost belligerently.

"Kidneys," Miss Letitia replied in kind.

Wardrop went with us to the station at noon, but he left us there, with a brief remark that he would be up that night. After I had put Margery in a seat, I went back to have a word with him alone. He was standing beside the train, trying to light a cigarette, but his hands shook almost beyond control, and after the fourth match he gave it up.

My minute for speech was gone. As the train moved out I saw him walking back along the platform, paying no attention to anything about him. Alas, I had a fleeting glimpse of a man loading on a

Land Owned by Peoples Water Company Estimated at Too High Rate, Says Oakland Attorney in Hearing of Case

San Leandro Watershed and Other Parts of System Are Held Up for Inspection by State Railroad Commission

Charges that property that cost originally $27 an acre appeared on the books of the Peoples Water Company at $80 an acre, and formed one of the so-called numerous basis of alleged overvaluation of water properties, was made today by John S. Partridge, chief counsel for the City of Oakland at the hearing of the State Railroad Commission on the San Leandro watershed.

Partridge referred in his statement to the San Leandro watershed system. According to Partridge, the books of the water company will show that the land was sold to the Peoples Water Company at an advanced figure over its normal market value.

Partridge said an effort is being made to locate the intermediate agents who represented the owners of the property and the water company itself in the sales, to determine just who got the difference in the price of the land when it was sold to the water company. Partridge said the commission's investigation, and predicated the basis upon which the final adjudication of a water rate for the east bay district will be made.

ENGLAND PLAYED BY CONGRESSMAN

Great Britain Is Charged With Fostering "Lying and Pernicious Reports."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Vituperative denunciation of England and its indirect charge that she is fostering "lying and pernicious reports," to excite Americans to war was made on the floor of the House today by Representative J. Hampton Moore, Republican of Pennsylvania.

Moore said that London has been crazy with delight since President Wilson announced a break with Germany. He declared that he had trouble with England in 1916 and 1917, and that he was not quite ready to believe every pernicious and lying report that comes from London now as an inducement for us to go to war.

SWEDEN REJECTS WILSON'S IDEA

Will Not Break; Against Policy; Strict Impartiality Adhered to.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 9.—The Swedish government rejects President Wilson's suggestion that other neutral countries join the United States in severing diplomatic relations with Germany and declares its intention to follow the strictest neutrality policy as long as it is possible. Sweden's reply was delivered to the American minister yesterday.

The government of the United States has chosen as a means of arriving at the realization of peace a method absolutely contrary to the principles which have guided the policy of the Swedish government up to the present hour.

The Swedish government, supported by public opinion, confirmed by the unanimous solicitation of the country's representatives, intends to follow in the future, as in the past, a policy of neutrality and impartiality toward all belligerent groups, and it is not disposed to abandon this policy unless the vital interests of the country and the dignity of the nation oblige it so to do.

GAYLEY URGES U. C. STUDENTS TO AID FRANCE

"I Don't Have to Be Neutral Any Longer," He Says

BERKELEY, Feb. 9.—"Thank God the time has come when I don't have to be neutral any longer." This was the beginning of a talk by Prof. Charles Mills Gayley, head of the Department of English at the University of California, at a mass meeting of students held this morning at Harmon Gymnasium to promote the organization of a corps of student volunteers for ambulance service in France from the university.

Prof. Gayley continued: "I want to see these boys of ours actually volunteering for service for France. I want to see France held as high in their esteem as humanity. From the time that Lafayette, in the name of France, rendered this country invaluable service down to the present hour, we have owned a constantly increasing debt of gratitude to our sister Republic which is about time we started paying."

WILT CHANGED; PERSISTS HE IS INNOCENT

Former "Dry" Campaigner in Glenn County Pays the Death Penalty; Leaves Statement Freely Forgiving His Enemies

Man Who Claims to Be Victim of Plot Attempts to Talk on Scaffold, But Is Prevented by the San Quentin Attendants

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. SAN QUENTIN, Feb. 9.—Retaliation with his last words his innocence of the crime for which he was convicted, Joseph Vance Wilt was hanged here at 10:30 a. m. today for the murder of Warren C. Smith at Germantown, Cal., a year ago. Just before he mounted the scaffold which led him to the throat and death, the condemned man wrote a brief statement denying his guilt, but forgiving his enemies and declaring "It is those who are against me with my death those causes of righteousness for which I have been ever zealous."

Wilt attempted, on the scaffold, to make a verbal statement, but the little group of guards and newspaper men who witnessed the execution, but was prevented from doing so by attendants, who gently but firmly slipped the black cap over his head and placed him on the trap. The door was sprung at 10:20 and fifteen minutes later Wilt was pronounced dead.

Wilt's statement follows: "My last statement: 'The incriminating charges which I have recently made against those responsible for my present situation have been already discussed. I wish to reaffirm at this solemn moment every word I have said or written. I had hoped that I might be spared this fearful end. But those who are against me, are stronger than our cause of righteousness. It is possible that I can better serve, with my death, those causes of righteousness for which I have been ever zealous. This thought makes death almost pleasant. However, I must leave that to my comrades. Though wronged, I die without bitterness toward any, but freely forgive my enemies, as I hope to be forgiven. I die as I lived, trusting in God and loving the saving grace of Christ. Farewell.'

Wilt had been prominent in the "dry" campaign in Glenn county, and he had alleged that because of this fact he had been made the victim of a plot by his enemies.

Although Rev. Leslie Kelley had informed Wilt early this morning that the governor had refused to reprieve him, the condemned man's nerve was not shaken. As he entered the execution chamber he appeared pale and drawn, but his head was held well up and a faint smile was on his lips. He showed no sign of fear and mounted the steps of the gallows without assistance.

The crime of which Joseph Vance Wilt was accused occurred on the morning of February 14, 1916, in Germantown. He is alleged to have gone to the house of his brother-in-law, J. T. Jensen, and, at the point of a gun, to have forced Jensen and Warren C. Smith, both employed in the Rochdale Store in Germantown, to leave their beds and go to the store. He demanded that they open the safe, but this they were unable to do.

Wilt declared he then marched them down a railroad track and as they started to run he opened fire. Smith was shot dead and Jensen was wounded with a bullet in the shoulder. Jensen, however, to get away, and he spread the alarm. Wilt fled into the country and was captured while hiding in a eucalyptus grove.

Wilt, being masked, Jensen says he did not recognize him, and it was believed, until Wilt was arrested, that the motive was robbery. It developed that two years ago Jensen, Wilt and Smith were principals in a family quarrel, and while the real motive, up to the last, was not clear, it was alleged that Wilt harbored a grudge against his brother-in-law.

In numerous appeals to Governor Johnson in Wilt's behalf it was pointed out among other things, that he did not mean to shoot Smith.

Oakland Street Car Patrons Careful Lot

Oakland people guard their property carefully, according to Superintendent J. P. Potter, of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, who spoke before the Transportation Club of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today. He said that 260,000 persons carried daily on the cars, said Potter, only an average of 100 lost articles a year are turned in. They are kept thirty days, but if not called for are returned to the members of the car crew who discovered them.

The oldest thing ever left on an Oakland car, according to Potter, was found two weeks ago. It turned out to be two live bullfrogs in a bird cage. The pond creatures were later handed over to their real owner who called for them.

CLEWS FOUND IN LOR MURDER CASE

Three Suspects Taken by the Police; Two Freed and One Held As Vagrant.

Three suspects of the murder of Isador Loh during the holdup of the Preneville saloon, at 271 Twelfth street, last Sunday night, have been taken into custody by Inspectors St. Clair Hodgkins and William Smith.

Two of the men have been released following an examination by the police, but one of them, whose name is being withheld, will probably be charged with vagrancy.

According to the police, the men, who were arrested in the vicinity of a saloon along the esuary, convinced them that they did not take part in the crime.

In the meantime the inspectors are following other important clues, and it is believed that arrests will result within a few hours.

MARINE CORPS TO RECRUIT NEW MEN

Officers Reopen Local Quarters in Effort to Establish Full Complement.

Vigorous measures to recruit the full strength of the United States Marine Corps in Oakland have been started with the re-opening of the marine corps recruiting station at 827 Broadway and an increase in the number of recruiting officers. Co-incident with local activity in the recruiting campaign, having for its object the establishing of a full complement of marines on United States warships, new marine corps recruiting stations have been opened in Santa Rosa, San Luis Obispo, Reno (Nev.) and San Jose. The staff of recruiting officers in the San Francisco districts have been increased by ten men, two officers being stationed where there was formerly only one while there are three in Oakland instead of, as previously, only one.

The present tension in this country following the diplomatic break has not so far had any appreciable effect on recruiting, according to Oakland marine recruiting officers. They believe, however, that increased public interest in naval affairs lately will stimulate recruiting. The United States Marine Corps is short 2500 of the normal strength of 15,000 men and an effort will be made to make up the shortage in the next few weeks.

Marine Corps recruiting officers in Oakland are: Sergeant William W. Blaire, Sergeant D. C. Keister and Corporal Hergert. The Oakland marine corps recruiting office had been closed since last June, and only recently re-opened.

Bond Issue Plan for New Schools Heard by Board

Advisory Body Meets With School Directors to Learn Situation

Whether the taxpayers of the present generation should pledge themselves for improvements in the school department in anticipation of development beyond the actual necessities of the next few years or provide for the growth of the department far into the future, is one of the first points raised in the preliminary discussion between the newly appointed bond advisory committee and the members of the board of education. The committee met with the board last night at an informal session in the city hall. No definite action was taken pending the organization of the advisory committee some time next week.

Superintendent A. C. Barker presented the report of the committee on the needs of the department in the way of new buildings, additions to present buildings, new sites and enlargements of present sites. His tentative list would necessitate a bond issue of practically $2,000,000. It is decided to hold a bond election, such election would probably be held separately from any other some time early in the summer.

With these exceptions the delegates from the ten improvement clubs constituting the advisory committee were present at last night's meeting.

Superintendent Barker informed the body that at the present time there are seventy portable buildings in use by the department or that many temporary class rooms. These are non-productive of revenue and by vast outlay in the present time in excess of the actual demand, the cost to the individual property owner would be greater than in the future, when the assessment roll is greater in proportion.

McElroy said:

"A high tax rate would tend to keep away manufacturing plants and the pay roll. These are most necessary to the development of the community. They will increase the assessment roll in the future so that the burden on the individual taxpayer would not be any greater in proportion even if land values and the cost of building should increase. The school buildings are non-productive of revenue and by vast outlay in the present time in excess of the actual demand, the cost to the individual property owner would be greater than in the future, when the assessment roll is greater in proportion."

Corder suggested that a survey of the growth of the school department during the last five years be used in estimating what should be done for that period in the future, taking into consideration that during the next decade conditions will have greatly changed.

It was also suggested that an architect be engaged to confer with the advisory committee and the school board so that the type of buildings to be constructed may be decided upon definitely before the bond proposition is placed before the people. In the meantime the committee will organize and satisfy itself as to the real need of the issue and determine in which sections of the city buildings should be constructed. Superintendent Barker spoke in favor of a high school being established in East Oakland somewhere midway between lake and the Fremont High. The demand in this particular locality has been emphasized by the improvement clubs of that district.

TENTATIVE LIST MADE.

In the tentative list submitted by Superintendent Barker the building would be located at Nineteenth avenue and East Nineteenth street. The following improvements were suggested in his plan east of the lake:

A new intermediate school near Thirty-fifth avenue and Davis street; new primary school in the Glenview district; additions to the Highland and Elmhurst schools or proposed new grammar school located midway between them; addition of an outbuilding of school fever, the town board having voted $75 to the board of health for this purpose.

In report to the town board on the necessity of keeping the dairies in the sanitary condition as a means of preventing disease, Dr. Browning advised that a number of the dairies had neglected to obey the law requiring tubercular tests on cows. He asked that this city take the lead in a movement to establish a state dairy inspection bureau.

Jesse H. Woods, who has been a member of the Hayward board of health for eight years, has tendered his resignation. He gave as his reason his inability to attend all the meetings.

Medical inspection of the 1100 children under five years of age has been carried out for the past three months, order that cases of scarlet fever may be detected early. This daily inspection has obviated the closing down of the school.

DAIRY INSPECTION BUREAU IS URGED

Suggested by Dr. Browning in Hayward Campaign on Scarlet Fever.

HAYWARD, Feb. 9.—Organization of a state dairy inspection bureau with headquarters in this city is suggested by Dr. P. W. Browning, board of health officer, as part of a health crusade entered upon by this city. Both the board of health and the town board are engaged in the fight against disease, and further measures are being taken to prevent the spread of an outbreak of scarlet fever, the town board having voted $75 to the board of health for this purpose.

In report to the town board on the necessity of keeping the dairies in the sanitary condition as a means of preventing disease, Dr. Browning advised that a number of the dairies had neglected to obey the law requiring tubercular tests on cows. MILITARY CLASS PLAN DEBATED

Lively Discussion Follows the Proposal to Equip Company in School.

HAYWARD, Feb. 9.—Varied opinions of local educators and school officials in regard to the value of military training in high schools, has caused a division in scholastic circles here over the question of forming a cadet company at the Hayward high school. When the proposal to organize a cadet company here similar to that of the Oakland Technical high school and other schools throughout the state, came before a recent meeting of the school board, there was considerable opposition to the plan. Because of this a decision as to whether the company should be formed was postponed until next meeting.

F. P. Johnson, principal of the Hayward school, is one of those who are in favor of the plan. He states his belief that the value of the training from a military standpoint is not sufficient to warrant the expenditure entailed.

He said: "While the training is good for the boy in improving his physique, it is not, in my opinion, sufficient, to justify the outlay. It would cost nearly $1000 to equip a Hayward high school cadet company. Of course, if the present plan to make high school military training compulsory is carried out, the state would probably bear the expense."

Drew, manual training instructor at the Hayward high school, is heading the movement to form a cadet company. Captain Harry Fiedlermann, commanding Company 11, National Guard, and Sergeant Harry Fiedlermann have offered to equip the high school boys if a company is formed.

Hold-up Man Found Guilty; Identified

RICHMOND, Feb. 9.—Twelve minutes following the hearing of the case, a verdict of "guilty" was returned against John Catling, charged with robbing the crew of an East Richmond street car on the night of December 1. The street car men identified him as the man who was taken into custody by the Richmond police a few days following the Catling case. He was found at the terminal at the Grand Canyon Chateau, wearing a gunny sack for a coat, and secured by the police. He was being held up by the street car men. He was found at the terminal at the Grand Canyon Chateau, wearing a gunny sack for a coat, and secured by the police. He was being held up by the street car men.

Saloons May Seek Referendum Vote

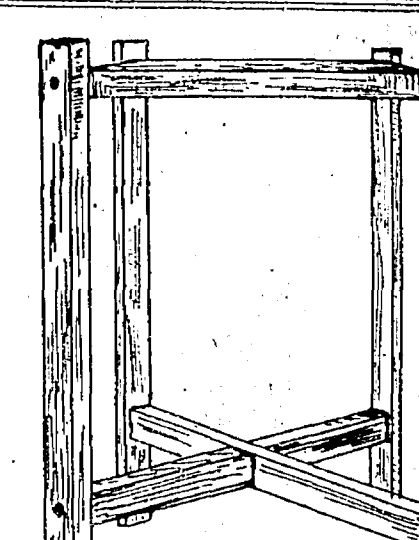

RICHMOND, Feb. 9.—Liquor men of this city, according to an unconfirmed report, are preparing to refer to the ordinance just passed by the city council ordering all saloons to install clear glass fronts, remove all booths and boxes and to do away with all side entrances. Through expressing their extreme disapproval of the ordinance, they are now trying to get the ordinance affirmed or deny that the next move on their part should be a referendum petition. The ordinance, which was passed by a vote of 10 to 5, would have the effect of doubling the license fee from $300 per annum to $600, is the second step toward regulating the saloons in this city.

Play to Be Offered by Hayward Club

HAYWARD, Feb. 9.—Members of the Sword and Torch Dramatic Club are rehearsing a play, "The Man from Home," which will be presented Feb. 23. The club gives a play annually and this year's production is the most ambitious yet attempted. William Rainey and Arthur Pliske, of the University of California, are coaching the cast.

DEMANDS DIVORCE.

RICHMOND, Feb. 9.—Because her husband "called her down" at a house party in El Cerrito, Mrs. Florence Henderson, 25, is suing her husband for divorce. She has grounds for divorce action. Constable Fred Davis served the papers yesterday on the husband, Harry Henderson, El Cerrito contractor. Attorney W. S. Plerke is conducting the case.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1917.

CONFIDENCE IN THE COMMISSION.

At a meeting yesterday of representatives of the east bay communities which have offered sites for the proposed new Pacific Coast naval station, a conclusion was reached which deserves unreserved commendation. After a full discussion of the situation it was unanimously decided to send no delegation to Washington at this time.

Discussion of the subject was brought about by the action of the mayor and supervisors of San Francisco in sending a delegation to the national capital to lobby for the Hunter's Point site. A lobby fund has been appropriated by the San Francisco municipal government for the use of the delegation and one member left for the East yesterday.

The conference of the east bay representatives went over the situation carefully and decided that in view of the fact that the Federal naval base commission has, as yet, made no recommendation in favor of any particular site, it would be inappropriate to do or say anything that might be interpreted as calculated to influence the decision of that commission.

No other action was possible which would at the same time exhibit a proper recognition of the high standing and ability of the members of the naval commission. This course also conforms both in deed and spirit to the "gentlemen's agreement" between the San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Albany and Richmond commercial bodies, made before the naval commission took up its investigation of Pacific Coast sites, namely, to work as a single body to secure the naval station for San Francisco Bay and to accept without protest the decision of the commission as to the particular location.

There is not the slightest danger that the interests of the nation or of the Pacific Coast will suffer by this attitude. The naval base commission is comprised of officers especially distinguished for their professional ability. They are Rear-Admiral James M. Helm, Rear-Admiral Washington L. Capps, chief naval constructor; Rear-Admiral Harry H. Rousseau, whom Congress recently promoted for his conspicuously able work in connection with the Panama canal; Captain George W. McElroy and Commander C. L. Hussey. The Secretary of the Navy could not have selected five men better qualified to perform the important duties devolving upon the commission.

Rear-Admiral Helm, the chairman, is the fourth ranking officer of the navy. He has been in active service for forty-two years. He has served on various surveying expeditions in the past, notably in Alaska and on the coasts of Washington and Oregon. He commanded the gunboat Hornet during the Spanish-American war and was advanced five numbers in his grade for eminent and conspicuous conduct in the battle of Manzanillo, Cuba.

If not actually unfortunate, it is a crude conception of the niceties of the situation for San Francisco to evince a lack of trust in this commission to the extent of sending a lobby to Washington to try to reverse its decision, should that not be just what San Francisco wants. Our transbay neighbor has even neglected to lend proper dignity to its "junker" by sending as an advance agent—the city clerk.

The naval base commission will be guided in finally determining what site is best suited for the government's purpose by the relative strategic advantages, the adaptability and the ease and speed by which a naval station may be developed. It is striving, and will continue to strive, to add to the efficiency of national defense.

To seek to influence or override the judgment of this commission by interjecting local politics is a piece of ludicrous presumption.

The east bay communities have done well to refrain from such a display.

DEVELOPMENT ELSEWHERE.

Finding its developed industrial area much restricted and observing many manufacturing establishments going to the east shore district, San Francisco is making determined efforts to increase her facilities for new business. Preliminary steps have already been taken for converting the Islais Creek lands into a new industrial district. The project in which the city and State is directly interested includes 200 acres of land subject to early reclamation and private property adjoining will add materially to this new business zone.

This land when developed will front on the bay and mean a large extension of San Francisco's waterfront and harbor facilities. There will be new opportunities for private industry and business.

Once more we are forcefully reminded that progress cannot be denied a community once it awakes to the necessity of intelligent action and of overruling the obstructionists. It is unsafe to follow those who contend that "San Francisco hasn't room to grow; industry must come to Oakland."

Industry never goes where it is not wanted. It can always find preparation for it somewhere. It is now finding it in Alameda and Berkeley, in Richmond and San Francisco, because in these communities the wishes of the people are being translated into official action.

The people of Oakland are just as anxious to see their city grow, but the voice of welcome has become somewhat confused with the small cry in certain quarters of "stay out." We may hope this impression will soon be dispelled; that a spirit of unity and cooperation will give the intelligent, far-seeing progressive views of the people of Oakland a chance.

OTHER NEUTRALS.

Refusal of all the neutral nations (excepting Bolivia) at once to accept President Wilson's suggestion to sever diplomatic relations with Germany does not come as a surprise. Yet it does not mean that the other neutrals do not sympathize with and acknowledge the necessity of the action of the United States government.

No other neutral had pressed its objections to unrestricted submarine warfare as had the United States. This government delivered a categorical ultimatum to Germany April 18th of last year, which meant that the President had then considered all further diplomatic efforts to protect the nation's vital interests hopeless.

In notifying other neutral governments of the break with Germany, the President did not request similar action; he merely intimated that he would appreciate such a sympathetic course as lending material support to his stand.

Other neutrals should not have been requested to follow America's example without having first exhausted all the resources of their own diplomacy; it is doubtful if the President expected them to do this.

Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Spain and Switzerland have relatively more to risk by entering the war than the United States and it is proper that these governments should individually try at least as hard as this country to avoid war.

They should first make definite and emphatic demands upon Germany to observe their rights under the law of nations before abandoning all hopes to preserve the peace.

But that the neutral governments of Europe and of Latin America endorse the stand the United States has taken to enforce observance of neutral rights in the present war is already known from abundant evidence. They have even intimated a desire that this country lead in the most emphatic protest possible, knowing that that would probably mean war.

Secretary of War Baker lauds the work of Generals Pershing and Pershing for their work on the border and in Mexico. If he would now apologize for sending two soldiers with a capacity for doing things to an urgent task and then tying their hands, the country will be pleased to excuse the man who compared Mexican bandits to the men of Washington from any further remarks on the border situation.

THE MINORITY REPORT.

(New York Sun.)

The minority report on the revenue bill made by the Republican members of the House ways and means committee serves three important purposes. It points to the primary cause of the government's financial difficulties, it exposes Democratic mismanagement of national finance, and it offers a straight, clear path out of the dilemma of scanty revenue and oppressive taxation on both horns of which the country is impaled.

The Underwood tariff law is the primary cause of the treasury's condition. Without the slightest need or justification a fruitful source of revenue was thrown away. Not a minute was lost in seizing upon the income tax, too opportunely provided by constitutional amendment, to make good the tariff losses. The South saw to it that the income tax burden was imposed upon the North.

As always happens, one fundamental mistake was followed by unforeseen complications. War began in Europe. Trouble multiplied in Mexico. We were confronted with the necessity of large national expenditures, partly caused by Mr. Wilson's ambitious domestic program. In three years the income tax rate was doubled. Military preparedness became an unexpected and pressing necessity. There was no money to provide it. Taxes were levied on inheritances, documents of many sorts, telegrams, telephone messages; were proposed on gasoline and what not, were fixed on exports by clear evasion of the Constitution—but not on Southern exports—and are now in contemplation yet more heavily on inheritances and on the profits of industry. Nor have all of these expedients sufficed; things have now reached such a pass that the North cannot longer be compelled to bear the expense alone; the ingenuity of Southern statesmen in devising a sectional distribution of tax burdens has been fairly exhausted. Still the country runs behind, so that a bond issue, a bond issue of a third of a billion, must be resorted to if we are to be solvent on June 30, 1918.

In addition an issue of $300,000,000 treasury notes will be necessary to carry us over. Uncle Sam is to give his promissory notes and mortgage the house again into the bargain.

The remedy for all this is a proper tariff, as the Republicans of the ways and means committee rightly declare. Never was the need of tariff readjustment more unmistakable. Unless it is undertaken the end of the war will leave us economically defenseless, not merely in respect of protecting our home markets but in enabling us to enter flexibly into that international bargaining which will then become necessary. These are important considerations; they are as vital to the safety of the nation as battleships; yet it is not on them that the strongest argument for tariff revision is founded. The tariff is needed to provide national income. That is the point emphatically made in the minority report of the House committee, and it is the point that ought to be foremost in the minds of all Americans of every party.

NOTES and COMMENT

"Overt act" is in a way to have popular place in the expressions of the day, something as "Innocuous desuetude" had in its day.

Our Senator Works has done his best to complicate the situation. He would have done more if his outbursts had had greater acceptance.

Santa Rosa Press Democrat (lads a celebrity): "Duffy Lewis, who is wintering at Boyes Springs, was here in his big green automobile Monday."

The heading reads: "Senator in fist fight with Politician." The scene laid in Montana. Senators and politicians mingle there on equal terms, it is said.

The Richmond Record-Herald comforts those with poor digestion: "How dyspeptics must envy the bat, which has a stomach capable of digesting three times its weight in a night."

A producer says a film star demands a million a year. Name not given, but everybody recognizes his feet and the artistic way in which he pushes the boob into the lake.

The Secretary of War praises Pershing and Funston. They did seem to do as well as could be expected of commanders who were sent in to a hostile country and then not permitted to do anything.

Alameda's city clerk has been allowed $200 by the council to teach voters how to vote. If the service could be extended to teaching them how they ought to vote a still larger appropriation would be justified.

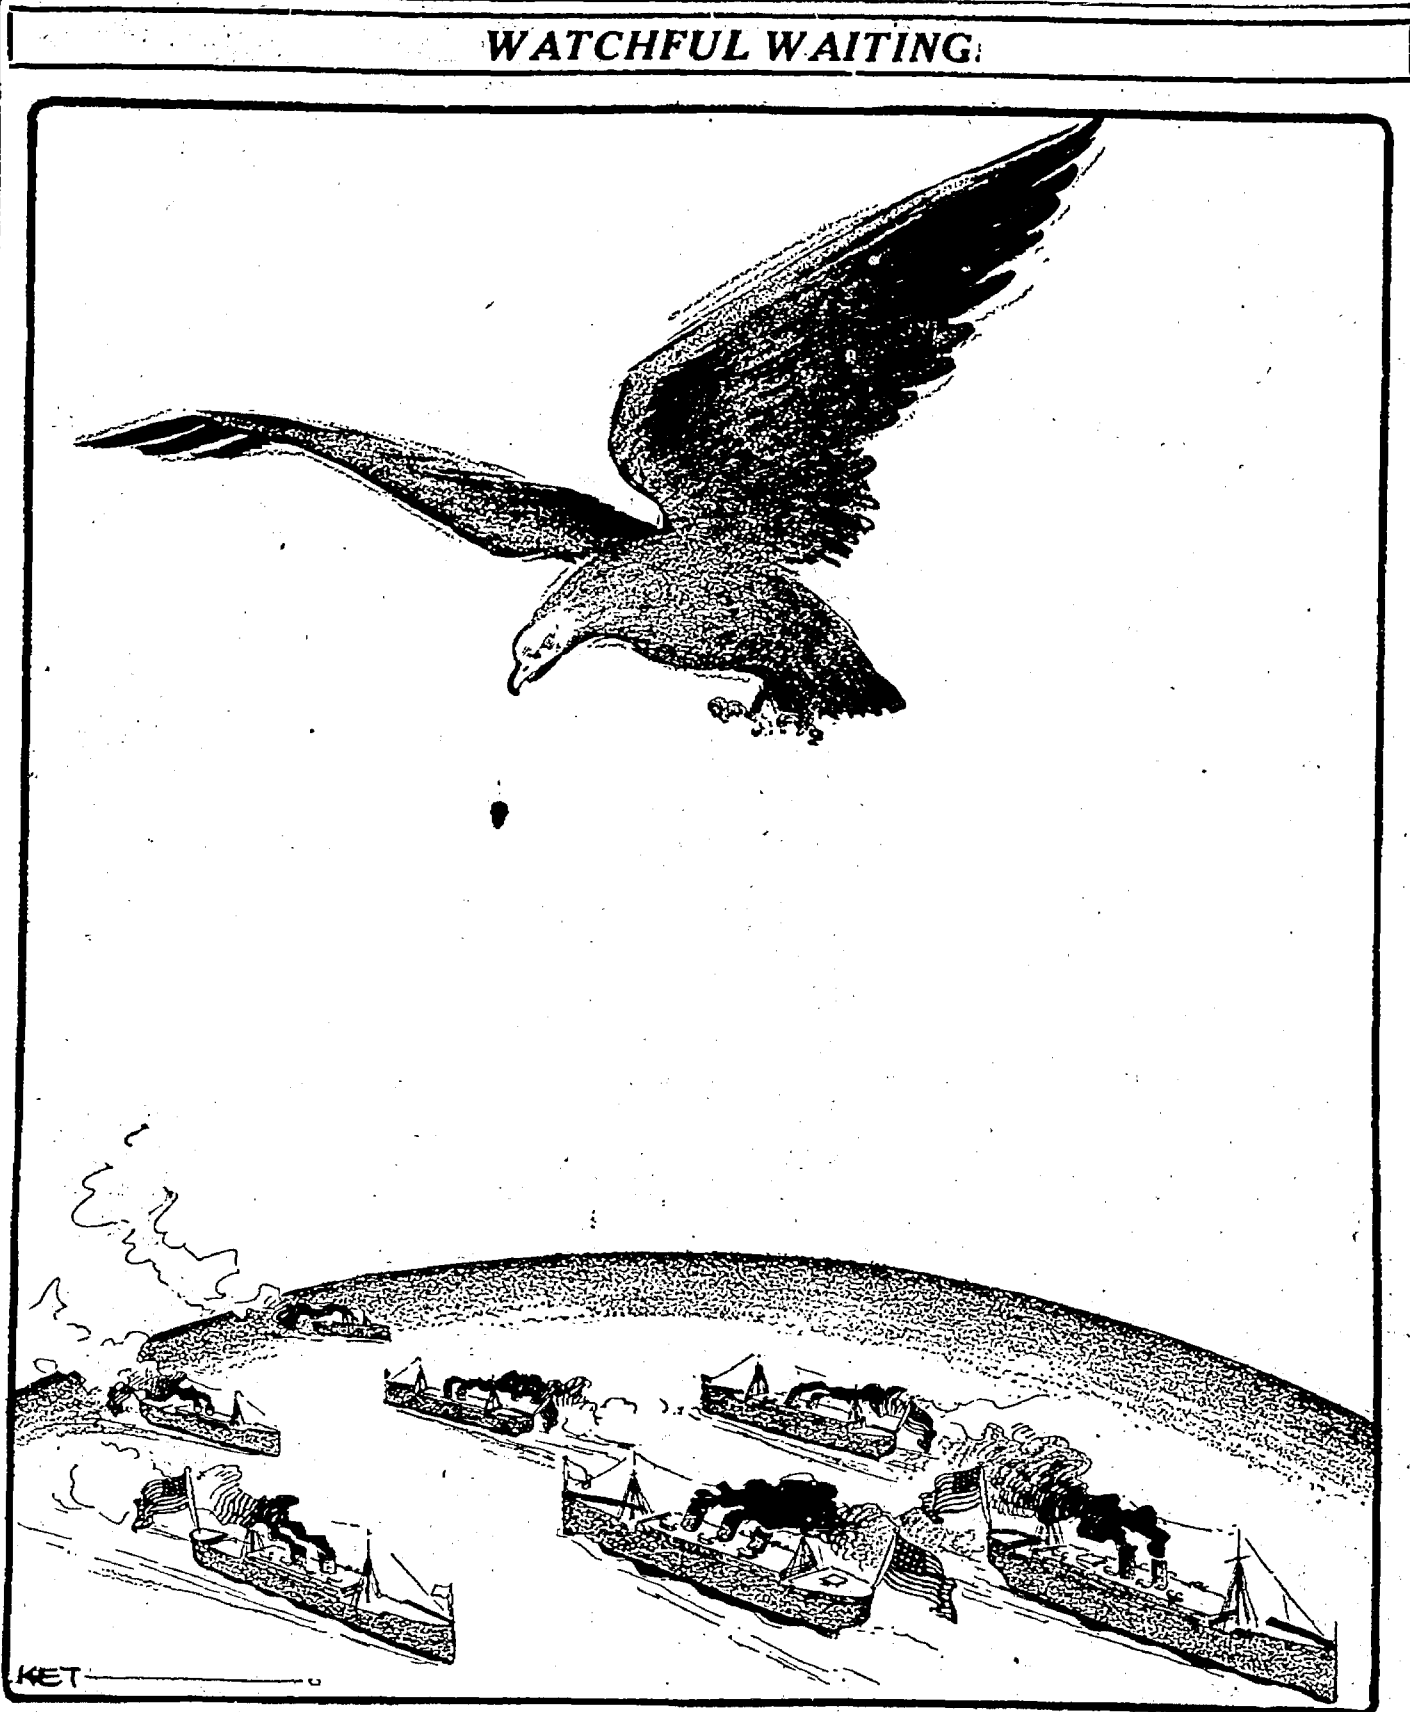

The progress of the mayor's recall is so unsatisfactory, according to a petition circulator, that there is encouragement to believe that everybody is not so ready to sign every paper placed before him as he formerly was.

Two items about Mayor Gill of Seattle: He has been denied a separate trial on charges of accepting bribes, and he knocked the heads in eighty barrels of whisky and spilled it into a sewer. His activities seem to be various.

Found it in the San Francisco Star: "If your husband shaves off his mustache and looks like a boob, don't tell him so, if you don't wish to lose him. Mrs. Irving of Berkeley says that's what caused the break in her matrimonial affairs."

A Marysville woman, within twenty minutes, was twice arrested for speeding. Now she is going to see that life is not too rosy for that speed cop. If not that, then that the town is boycotted. Marysville has its troubles as well as its romantic and tragic and altogether unusual occurrences.

Editorial amenities in Stockholm, as we glean from the Mail: "The Record reports a circulation of one in Holland. This gives our admirable contemporary a toe-hold in international affairs. We may yet see Scoop sitting in a peace conference at The Hague. The perspicacity, erudition, profundity and leonine dimensions of our contemporary may destine it to play a hefty part in international affairs."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The snow blockade that has been tying up freight east of Salt Lake appears to have been broken. Yesterday long freight trains passed through Ogreville, constituting the first through freights in a number of days. It is expected that the facilities of the railroad will be taxed to their capacity when the big rush starts.—Ogreville Register.

Some of the most provincial newspapers in the world are printed in and for New York. When under pressure one of these papers has to use a San Francisco or Sacramento date line, the chance reader in the West gets intangible sense of its having been used as under duress and grudgingly.—Woodland Democrat.

WATCHFUL WAITING.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The Emeryville trustees have made all arrangements for the sewerage of the new town.

The cooking class of the Central grammar school will make its first experiments in cooking today.

Word from Sacramento today indicates that the legislature will make heavy cuts in the salaries of deputy county officials in Alameda county.

John H. Curtis, who, together with his horse and buggy, became mired in the mud in a piece of torn-up roadway on College avenue today, says he has a grievance against the superintendent of streets.

Mrs. F. M. Smith gives a dinner to forty-eight guests at her home tonight in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips of East Oakland.

THE JESTER

Natural Result.

"I understand Blank doesn't stammer so much since he got married." "Of course not; he gets fewer chances to talk than he used to."—Exchange.

His Line.

The reform warden always made it a point to give each new arrival a chance to do the work with which he was familiar, if the penitentiary dealt in his line. A tailor named Levinski arrived, and it was ordered that he be employed at that trade, if there was an opening. "There wasn't," he was asked if he was adept at anything else.

"Yes," he replied with a smile; "I am a crackerjack traveling salesman."—Argonaut.

MISS LILLIAN MATZEK, who is assisting in making a three-mile strip of bunting for Ad-Masque decorations.

If the parade of bunting and other drapery used in decorating the Municipal Auditorium for the great Ad-Masque next Wednesday night were laid down end to end, as a stretch of stair carpet, it would extend more than three miles.
In other words, the black and burnt orange textiles would reach from the Auditorium to Bay Farm Island, beyond Alameda.

The decorating of the Auditorium has been placed in the hands of John Mauerhan of the Curtin Store. Mauerhan has been assisted by Miss Lillian Matzek, who possesses exceptional talent for artistic drapery.

But the decorations form only a part of the tremendous work entailed in completing the arrangements for the staging of the monster advertising spectacle and ball.

There is the matter of illumination.

This feature has been carefully worked out by Romaine Myers, consulting illuminating and electrical engineer.

Myers will produce all the colors of the rainbow in operating the six giant scintillators. Each scintillator will be in charge of an expert and Myers will direct their operation by telephone from the stage.

Outside the Auditorium, turning right into day, will be the thirty flood-lighting projectors. These projectors possess 250,000 candlepower each.

THE COSTUMING.

Then, again, there is the matter of supplying the costumes for the participants in the Ad-Masque, "Unity," for the Queen, the fifteen princesses, the pages, and scores of other actors in the spectacle.

This important matter has been placed in the hands of Charles Hoffman, 556 Fifteenth street, proprietor of one of the largest costume houses on the Pacific coast. Hoffman has been appointed official costumer for the Ad-Masque. He will see that every actor in this drama of advertising will be properly dressed for his part.

The transportation problem for the Ad-
Masque has been solved.

The operating department of the traction company announced today that the last cars would leave the Auditorium at 2:15 a. m. the morning following the opening of the Ad-Masque. These cars will be operated on main lines only, but will thoroughly cover the entire eastbay district. Car service will be maintained until 3:15 a. m. to Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, North-West and East Oakland and the suburban districts.

WATCH FOR VILLAI

An interesting advance feature of the Ad-Masque will be the capture of Villai, the elusive border bandit, by a picked platoon of the boys of Company F, in command of Sergeant Wayne Allen. Allen has learned that Villai will be at fourteenth and Broadway at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

"I'm ready for him," announced Sergeant Allen today. "When we get him we'll throw him in the guardhouse until the night of the Ad-Masque. Then we will exhibit him to the admiring public.

Meanwhile the keenest kind of interest has been created in the Ad-Masque. A record breaking attendance is expected.
The Ad-Masque will eclipse every other event of the year.

LOTTERY MEN ARRESTED IN POLICE RAID

Following Disclosures to the District Attorney, First Successful Move in Months Is Made by Minions of the Law

Police Had Been Powerless to Curb the Street Peddlers, Is Declared to Hynes; Today
Headquarters Are Found

The first successful lottery raid in the past few months was executed late today when Corporal Smith and Officers Stebbins and Lee, 613 Harrison street, for selling tickets, and Pete Carlson, on a charge of visiting a lottery ticket establishment. The Chinese is held for $300 bail and Carlson for $10.

It was learned by the police that Hong started selling tickets several days ago at the Harrison street address, which is a private residence. This morning Officer Curran of the Chinatown squad saw men coming from the place and upon investigation found that lottery ticket transactions were taking place. The raid followed later.

Yesterday afternoon District Attorney W. H. Hynes, advised of the operations of the "lotteries," although a dozen police had testified to the Grand Jury that the places were closed, sent a hurry call to the central station and Captain Charles Beck and six men responded in plain clothes. A conference was held in Hynes' office with Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris. A mass of lottery tickets and drawing results were in Hynes' possession and when Captain Beck was presented, with the evidence of the illegal business of the Chinese he declared that to his knowledge there was not a lottery house in the city in operation.

In company with Beck, Deputy Harris went out in an automobile to scout through the Chinese quarter. After an hour spent on the streets in the vicinity of the fake tea houses and merchandise shops, they returned and no raid was launched. It had been Hynes' intention to take in as many as possible. According to the statement of Harris, it is clear that the Chinese are selling lottery tickets and operating as of old. However, it appears to be useless to raid the places unless there is a certainty of securing evidence by either the "stool pigeon" method or by force. The police admit that street peddling of tickets has flourished at all times but insist they are powerless to arrest the suspects or clean the streets of the known agents of the gamblers.

The Grand Jury probe into the conditions in the Chinese quarter was thorough and both executive and patrolmen declared that the lottery was pretty much a thing of the past. However, young boys and men have daily crowded Franklin street slipping in and out of the dark, curtained fake tea stores of the Orientals, buying the tickets.

the Alameda County Woman's Democratic Club. Although Miss Anita

Whitney asked for a similar endorse-

It was primarily a "war luncheon."
Mrs. Hume, who made an eloquent plea for the united interest of the feminine voters in the effort to secure the appointment of a woman to the district attorney's office, summoned them in bold words to war on politicians.

"We women have the ballot but we have not yet come into our political kingdom," she said. "We must learn how to use it. Not until we have delivered an election in the defeat of the defeat of the victory of a man or group of men will we be recognized as a political power by those officials who have dug themselves into the fifth street offices. When we are on the political map we will be offered an appointment in the district attorney's office."

ELLIOTT SPEAKS.

"If we are drawn into war," said Professor Elliott, who was a brother-in-law of the late Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, "it will be unfair to continue the present system of voluntary enlistment. I hope our earliest act will be an entire mobilization of women as well as men. I believe in an equitable distribution of service."

J. P. Montgomery said: "We must remember that if the war in the near future the reason is not due to Germany or Austria, but is the working out of the problem of bringing together kindly all the nations in one brotherhood of man."

WOMEN TO PROPOSE.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Speakers at a suffrage meeting here were of the opinion that women will have to propose after the war because many men will hesitate to come forward owing to their being cripples.

TWO MEN BADLY HURT IN FIGHT;
ONE MAY DIE

Knives and Guns Used in Bloody Fray of Construction Gang

Two men were seriously wounded, one probably fatally, in a terrific fight, in which revolvers and knives were freely used, among the members of a railroad construction gang on the Southern Pacific line at the foot of Eighty-second avenue this afternoon. Of half a dozen men involved in the melee, who are said to be all Mexicans, one was perhaps fatally injured by a revolver shot and by knife wounds.

He was rushed to the emergency hospital, when found by the police at the Elmhurst station from a severe head wound, evidently inflicted with a club, was picked up by Marshal Peralta of San Leandro as he staggered from the scene of the fray, and taken to the county infirmary.

PROBLEMS OF MEXICO FACED BY FLETCHER

American Ambassador Confronted With Practically All of Matters Left Unthrust at Recent A. B. C. Confab

U. S. Representative Will Try to Adjust Satisfactorily Five Conditions Existing; Government Sends Embassy Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, will carry with him across the Rio Grande next week a diplomatic burden heavier than any American representative has carried in years. Practically all of the problems left unthrust at the A. B. C. conference and the recent commission will be given to Ambassador Fletcher to work out.

Fletcher will leave Washington tomorrow for his new post. His route to Mexico City is being kept secret because of the possibility of bandit attacks on his train. Accompanying him are Captain Frank R. McCoy as military aide, and a staff of five men, including a secretary, a clerk, a stenographer, and a driver. He will be joined at the border by Captain Louis Van Schaick as military attaché, Captain George B. Sumnerlin, now first secretary of the American embassy in Santiago, Chile, has been ordered to proceed to Mexico City to occupy a similar position there.

His problems which Ambassador Fletcher will try to adjust satisfactorily are:

- 1.—Persuading Mexico to pay approximately $100,000 now due as interest on foreign loans.
- 2.—The embargo on arms decreed which ranks Mexican officials.
- 3.—The government's protest on the changing of the Mexican constitution which discriminates against foreigners.
- 4.—This government's protest against the recently promulgated constitution, declaring all mines which are operating by February 5.
- 5.—A mountain of claims made by Americans for the loss of property in the eight years of revolution in Mexico.

Movement of Militia to Proceed at Once

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The movement of militia from the Mexican border to their home stations will proceed at once, the War Department announced, as originally ordered.

Bay Ship Collision Causes $5000 Damages

Five thousand dollars will cover the necessary repairs to the Southern Pacific freight train which was badly damaged yesterday in a collision with the Dutch steamer Soerakarta during a heavy fog. A strong tide in combination with the fog caused the accident, according to officials of the transit. The Soerakarta was lying at anchor off Pier 38 at San Francisco when the Transit struck the iron freighter. The port paddle-box of the ferry was torn off, the shaft from the engine was broken and the freighter was damaged. The Soerakarta was wrecked. The stem of the Soerakarta was slightly bent by the impact.

Western Pacific Plan to Buy Road Heard

Harbor Conference Has Completed Terms of Lease

Resolution Calls on Legislature to Pass New Enabling Law

The harbor conference committee last night completed its work upon the preliminary terms of a proposed lease for the western waterfront, and drafted a report which, barring one provision, which has to do with municipal reservations, epitomizes the results of its official labors into a concrete expression of the wishes of the general public as expressed through its organization representatives.

The conference committee has made more rapid progress than the members themselves expected. Last week it was estimated that it would require four or five more meetings before the draft of the tentative lease was submitted. The conference committee has responded to a well defined public sentiment in favor of carrying out the wishes of the people for the western waterfront.

The front as expressed at the special election held in August. In the face of the conference committee's action, it is not likely that opposition will continue to the draft of the charter amendment for the waterfront, which the Legislature will reconvene.

The session, which closes more than two weeks of continuous conference, study and deliberation on the part of the committee, was marked by several radical resolutions, designed to settle for all time certain important questions in connection with the waterfront. The committee has been bones of contention for several years. It is understood that the port commission, the mayor's advisory committee of fifteen, the committee of fifty, and the Alameda waterfront committee, delegates from which compose the conference committee, are heartily behind the latter body in its action.

On January 10, the State Legislature called upon the State Legislature to pass immediately the necessary legislation to make the waterfront a part of any part of the waterfront lands of the city to a term of fifty years; a resolution, reiterating a previous resolution, that the city should immediately take necessary steps to submit a charter amendment for lease of more than one year to be ratified by the people; and a resolution, expressing it as the desire of the committee that the city should immediately take necessary steps to submit a charter amendment for lease of more than one year to be ratified by the people; and a resolution, expressing it as the desire of the committee that the city should immediately take necessary steps to submit a charter amendment for lease of more than one year to be ratified by the people.

On the question of reserving 68 acres out of the whole extent of waterfront holdings for future uses of the city or for other interests which might come into Oakland at a later date, the conference committee voted unanimously before the committee was widely open. One-half the committee wanted no reservation at all, the other half declaring for a reservation of all means. A final meeting at the call of chairman Harrison Robinson will be held the latter part of this week or the first of next week, at which the last item of the proposed lease terms will be threshed out.

5. The lessee shall agree with the lessor that improvements on the leased property shall be made in accordance with the plan of improvement of the waterfront.

6. The lessee shall specify that the land shall be used to locate warehouses and factories and for other purposes for the benefit of commerce and navigation, and to provide for the facilities for rail and water transportation. It shall also specify that no railroad shall be excluded from access to the property on equal terms with every other railroad. It shall also specify that the property shall not be used principally as a freight yard or classification yard.

STREET WORK.

10. 13. The lessee shall construct or cause to be constructed on the filled land modern warehouses and factories with modern railroad facilities and terminals available.

14. Should the city determine that the commerce of the port requires more docks and warehouses at any time during the term of the lease, they shall be constructed and the cost divided between the city of Oakland and the lessee.

AID BOY SCOUTS; CLEAN GROUNDS

Signs to Ask Public to Assist in Dimond Canyon Campaign.

"Do a good turn with the Oakland Boy Scouts of America by helping to keep this scenic ground clean," is the wording of ten large signs to be placed in Dimond Canyon by the Oakland scouts tomorrow on their clean up campaign in observance of the seventh anniversary of the incorporation of the National Boy Scout movement.

The city is providing discarded street boxes for the regular deposit of lunch papers and refuse. The signs have been painted by the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Railway Company, and will be placed near the boxes, urging the hundreds of people who use the canyon for a pleasure ground to help the Scouts keep it in a presentable condition.

The rapid growth in the number of Boy Scouts, interested in country districts around Oakland, has led the park board to see the advantage of having the boys' co-operation in developing recreation grounds.

The opening of new headquarters at Twenty-fourth and Harrison streets is giving the local movement a decided boost in popularity with the boys.

The evening of February 22, Washington's first annual "Scout Day" will be held, to which all parents and friends will be invited. As soon as the Scout day is over, the city will have classes in boxing, wrestling, telegraphy, etc., will be started. A Scout band is being organized, and the swimming classes will start the first of the week.

Cuban Markets Are Neglected, Is Charged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—American neglect of Cuba as a source of goods has given other countries an advantage in supplying cotton and woolen goods to the island. A report by the Commerce Department said the United States has sold a small part of the goods Cuba consumes when the tariff is 30 per cent less on American goods than on similar commodities from other countries. The island buys about $1,000,000 worth annually.

"The United States," says the report, "is the logical source of supply for Cuban purchasers of textiles and should obtain a much larger share of the business within the next few years."

Woes Are Many; He Sues for Damages

Suit for $2000 was instituted yesterday by Robert E. Robinson, proprietor of a shop in the downtown district. The plaintiff was an employee of the place as floor walker and alleges that some months ago he was discharged, beaten by his employers and bitten by a bulldog.

Prominent Poultry Man Praises Diehl's New Market

We, in Oakland, do not seem to appreciate the high character of some of our markets. It remains for a well-known poultry dealer from Kansas City, the heart of this industry, to pass words of praise in reference to Fred W. Diehl's New Market at Third and Broadway Sts. This man, a recent visitor to Oakland, stated that he had seen nothing in the United States that would compare with Mr. Diehl's place for the particular business to which it is adapted.

When one considers the arrangements made for the handling of poultry and game, from its first receipt in the live state to the finished product, already for the housewife to prepare, one is struck with the many favorable points that make this market such a high-class one.

The mammoth ice box costing over $2500 for installation is indeed the very same of perfection in this line. Here are displayed great quantities of dressed poultry and game preparatory to being delivered to the many customers of this market.

Sanitary conditions throughout the entire market are first class in every respect and the very latest ideas for the promotion of this very important feature.

It would pay one to make a visit to this meat and see for themselves just how fine an arrangement is provided throughout for the handling of high-class trade.—Advertisement.

Mary Clifford did not do even as well as that, adding only 2855 votes, which brought her from 209,165 to 212,050.

Anti-McLoughlin Law Up for Passage Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—It was almost a ready-made bill that delegates to the annual meeting of the United States National Tennis Association would take the action that will make Maurice E. McLoughlin a professional when they convene at the Waldorf.

The amendment to the by-laws will make any tennis player who engages in the sporting goods business a professional following the example set by the National Golf Association when it made Francis Ouimet and other prominent golfers professionals.

The tennis players will not be professionals for a year and, according to the way the law is now contemplated, will make them professionals only so long as they are engaged in the business. This will probably be changed to make them outright professionals, with no chance of a drawback.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 9.—Billy Sullivan, formerly catcher with the Chicago White Sox, has been signed by the Seattle Club of the Pacific Northwest League.

U. will send the winners in the national 15, 135 and 183-pound class boxing championships to compete in Scandinavian countries this spring. The boxers to be sent will compete in the northern international championship tournament, which will be staged in Stockholm.

The 1917 A. A. U. boxing championships will be held in Boston early in April, according to word received here. The Olympic Club of San Francisco expects to send at least three men to the New England metropolis.

Oaks Play First Here With Seals As Rivals

Oakland fans will get their first chance to witness the 1917 Oaks in action in spring on the second week of the season when the Howardites tackle their trans-bay rivals, San Francisco, here.

The league schedule has not been made known as yet, and the above was not yet permitted to become known. But THE TRIBUNE succeeded in prying this much loose.

It has already been stated in these columns that the opening week of the season will find the Oaks and the Seals, the Tigers playing at San Francisco and the Beavers at Salt Lake.

Four Alameda Bushers to Try for Oak Jobs

Al Ross, catcher; Arthur Boyle, shortstopper; and Frank Gay, infielder, all members of the champion Alameda team of the Mid-Winter league, will receive try-outs with the 1917 Oaks.

This became known yesterday when all three were allowed a chance to start spring training at Sycamore Springs with the Howardites. The trio will be augmented with the acquisition of the local club of Sallier Newkirk, the heavier who pitched the Alameda team to the title.

'Tip' O'Neill Forgot to Include These Cities

The Lincoln Star thinks Tip O'Neill is unforgetting. The White Sox in their trip to the home do not invade Lincoln, Sioux City and Omaha. They jump from Kansas City and St. Joe to Des Moines. The Star says Tip, who arranged the schedule, did it on purpose because the three cities voted to depose Tip as Western league president.

Oaks Will Play First Game Here April 12

The Oakland club, from present indications, will play its first game on the home grounds, Thursday, April 12, with the Seals as opponents, and whatever celebration is arranged for DeL's gang will be held on that day. The Oaks, after opening in the south, will be the home club against San Francisco the second week.

Bantams Make Big Hit in Australian Rings

Snowy Baker, the Australian fight promoter, writes that the bantamweights are going big in Kangaroo Land.

"The bantams are all the go in Australia at present," says Baker. They are making big houses, and the fight loving public has been taking more interest in the little fellows than ever before.

During the past few weeks a number of elimination contests among some of the coming bantams have been held in Sydney and Melbourne. At each of these bouts crowds of from 3000 to 7000 have been turning out.

Among the bantams who are holding places in the line in Australia are Jack Janene, the champion, and Vince Blackburn, Harry Holmes, Andy McGuire, Eddie Clifford, Clark Lloyd and Albert Locke.

Painless Parker-Outlaw

His Confessions

these lawsuits for their "moral" effect upon the law.

Here was the artistic system they employed: They would send a patient to a dentist, and after I had extracted his teeth, they would take him in hand, and under pretense of "rectifying" my "blunders," they would put arsenical paste or fiber saturated with carbolic acid into the tooth socket—and let nature take its course. When inevitable trouble followed they would tell this unfortunate that he had given him blood poisoning, and would have to go to the hospital—and he would certainly file suit for damages against me.

One peculiarly vicious case I recall was that of a Fourth-avenue barber, into whose tooth socket one of the "ethical" dentists placed arsenical fiber after he had treated him. When I saw him he had a hole in his face into which I could stick my fist. Before he died he visited my family physician and laid before him the whole plot. Had it not been for this fortunate circumstance it would have gone hard with me. I have no doubt.

Exhibit A for the Medicine Men in their fight against Painless Parker found a resting place on a Morgue slab, thanks to the "ethics" of the embattled Dental Trust.

Perfect Health Is Yours If the Blood Is Kept Pure

Almost Every Human Ailment Is Directly Traceable to Impurities in the Blood.

You cannot overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body, you can easily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications.

Any slight disorder or impurity that creeps into the blood is a source of danger, for every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are Rheumatism, with its torturing pains; Catarrh, often a forerunner of dread consumption; Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas and other disgusting skin diseases; Malaria, which makes the strongest men helpless; and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood.

You can easily avoid all of these diseases and rid the system of them, by the use of S. S. S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly, and routes every vestige of impurity. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

date of the Noptum Beach Amusement Company of Alamida, where other who made only a moderate advance. She added 9000 votes, and so doing, passed Miss Olsen.

But the candidates are so close bunched that a quiet dash by one candidate and just a moderate gain by another makes a change in position.

Alma Munz, of Bogart Sales Company, added only 1035 votes to Miss but Nellie Harding of the Lumber Trust made up almost 1000.

Tillie Milligan made a splendid showing by having 15,350 votes plus to her credit and thus keeping well inside of the zone of prizes making her still a contender.

Games were made by all of the contestants, but not such as to warrant any important change in position.

There is little question but that many of these candidates have served votes that will be deposited in the day of the contest. To these reserve votes depend the results. There are still many can win. Any one on the list can get within the prize zone.
